Govt shifts Cabinet meet from Nandi Hills to Soudha

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI & V VELAYUDHAM
@ Bengaluru, Chikkaballapura

IT is business as usual. There is no Cabinet meeting at the Nandi Hills and it will be held instead at Vidhana Soudha.

According to sources, the government decided to shift the Cabinet meeting, fearing the ire of mango growers, as farmers were planning to protest at the Nandi Hills during the cabinet meeting. The farmers had the backing of the JD(S).

The threat of protest by mango growers, and the long list by Shaswatha Neeravari Horata Samithi for the speedy implementation of irrigation projects for the region, forced the government to shift the Cabinet meeting, sources said. The protestors had a plan to dump damaged mangoes on main roads connecting the Nandi Hills through Chikkaballapura from Bengaluru, to create an obstacle to the vehicles of the Chief Minister and ministers. The state intelligence alerted the CM in this regard, sources added.

However, the CMO maintained that the Cabinet meeting was shifted to Vidhana Soudha due to 'technical reasons' as the Finance Department had not given clearance to certain projects meant for the region.

The CM had a plan to cover the subjects of the entire Bengaluru revenue division, including the districts of Bengaluru Urban, Rural, Ramanagara, Shivamogga, Davanager, and Tumakuru. Because of a lack of subjects (as there were only 19), and Bengaluru Division not being covered entirely, the Cabinet was shifted to Vidhana Soudha, they said.

Operation Sindhu starts, first evacuation flight to land in New Delhi today

@ New Delhi / Srinagar / Lucknow

INDIA has launched Operation Sindhu to evacuate its nationals from conflict-torn Iran, which has come under heavy Israeli aerial bombardment. The first evacuation flight is expected to land in New Delhi on Thursday.

A total of 110 Indian students boarded a special flight from Yerevan in Armenia on Wednesday. The flight is scheduled to land in New Delhi around 2:00 am on Thursday. Around 90 of these students are from Jammu and Kashmir. There are around 1,300 J&K students in Iran.

The Iranian Embassy in Delhi said five Indian students were injured during a strike on a medical students' dormitory on Keshavarz Street in Tehran on Sunday. Sources said the students were safely evacuated and nobody sustained any serious injury.

"My ward is studying MBBS in Sheraz University. I am worried about his safety, especially after hearing news that a hostel came under Isreali strike," said Srinagar resident Shabir Ahmed.

Nasir Khuehami, national convenor of J&K Students Association, said 250 more students have been shifted to safer location of Qom. They will be evacuated to Armenia and then airlifted to Delhi.

Meanwhile, the families of those working in Israel are equally worried. Workers from around 70 families from Barabanki, Lucknow and other districts are employed in various factories in Israel.

Ram Singh, a welder from Malihabad, Lucknow, shared his experiences with his family through a video call, explaining that mobile alerts come 10 minutes before a missile attack, followed by loud sirens five minutes ahead.

"The moment the siren sounds, there's panic all around. Everyone runs for the bunkers," he told his family.

Prime minister says India has always been against third-party mediation on Kashmir issue

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

SENDING a clear and firm message to Washington, Prime Minister Narendra Modi told US President Donald Trump that India has never accepted—and will never accept—third-party mediation on the Kashmir issue. Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri said Modi made it unequivocally clear during their 35-minute phone call on Tuesday.

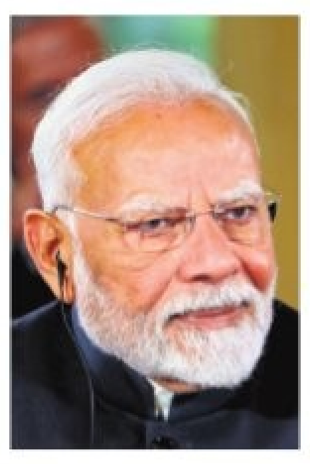
The call — their second direct engagement since the April 22 terror attack in Pahalgam — came against the backdrop of Operation Sindoor.

Misri said "India's response was measured, precise, and limited to terrorist infrastructure in Pakistan and Pakistan occupied Kashmir," underscoring New Delhi's commitment to strategic restraint without compromising on national security.

The conversation also sought to clarify India's position on recent claims by President Trump, who had repeatedly talked about playing a role in brokering a ceasefire between India and Pakistan.

Modi directly addressed this, saying there were "no discussions on a trade deal between India and the US or about a mediation between India and Pakistan" at any point during the four days of military confrontation. The ceasefire talks, he said, were conducted exclusively between India and Pakistan, without external involvement.

President Trump suggested a stopover meeting in the US during Modi's return from Canada, but the prime minister declined due to prior commitments. Both agreed to find another opportunity for an in-person meeting soon.



Narendra Modi

Donald Trump

Hours later, Trump reiterated that he intervened to prevent a military conflict between India and Pakistan in May after the Pahalgam terror attack.

Speaking to reporters at the White House, he described Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi as "a fantastic man" and expressed optimism about a forthcoming trade deal between the US and India.

"Well, I stopped the war... I love Pakistan. I think Modi is a fantastic man. I spoke to him last night. We're going to make a trade deal with Modi of India. But I stopped the war between Pakistan and India," President Trump said.

Addressing speculation around a potential White House meeting with Pakistan Army Chief General Asim Munir, Trump credited Munir with playing a key role in de-escalating the crisis.

"This man was extremely influential in stopping it from the Pakistan side," Trump said, referring to Munir. "Modi, from the India side, and others — they were going at it, and they're both nuclear countries. I got it stopped."

Trump also questioned media coverage of his claims, stating, "I don't think I had one story. Did I have one story written..."

India and Canada reset ties, agree to reinstate envoys

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

IN a big step towards mending strained ties, India and Canada have agreed to reinstate High Commissioners in each other's capitals and restart stalled trade negotiations, following a meeting between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Canadian Prime Minister Mark Carney on the sidelines of the G7 Summit early on Wednesday.

Modi and Carney agreed to take steps to restore stability to the relationship with the return of top diplomats marking the first formal gesture of renewed engagement. "Diplomatic steps will follow in due course," said Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri.

The meeting set in motion the resumption of dialogues on trade, connectivity, and public engagement. Trade talks, previously paused, will also be revived, with both leaders instructing their officials to restart negotiations soon.

Collaboration on global challenges and emerging technologies formed a key part of the discussion, with both sides agreeing to deepen cooperation in clean energy, AI, digital infrastructure, food security, and critical minerals.

After the meeting, PM Modi said, "Had an excellent meeting with Prime Minister Mark Carney. Complimented him and the Canadian Government for successfully hosting the G7 Summit. India and Canada are connected by a strong belief in democracy, freedom and rule of law. PM Carney and I look forward to working closely to add momentum to the India-Canada friendship. Areas like trade, energy, space, clean energy, critical minerals, fertilisers and more offer immense potential in this regard."

This marks Prime Minister Modi's first visit to Canada since the diplomatic fallout following allegations of Indian involvement in the killing of pro-Khalistan separatist Hardeep Singh Nijjar. The controversy triggered diplomatic expulsions and the suspension of key dialogues.

A statement from Carney's office reaffirmed the importance of Canada-India ties "based on mutual respect, the rule of law, and a commitment to the principle of sovereignty and territorial integrity".

Will ensure safe release of 'Thug Life': K'taka to SC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE Karnataka government on Wednesday, filed a detailed affidavit in the Supreme Court on Wednesday and said that if actor Kamal Haasan's movie, 'Thug Life', is released in the state, then it would take all the necessary steps to maintain law and order, and provide security to all the citizens concerned and other stakeholders.

The Karnataka government on Wednesday filed the affidavit in SC after complying with the court's Tuesday's order, which asked it to file the same in a day. "In the event the producers of the film decide to release the movie in Karnataka, the State Government is duty bound and will give protection and security for such release and for the people connected therewith, including the cast, director, producers, the exhibitors, and the audience," stated the affidavit of Karnataka government.

SC was hearing a PIL filed by Bengaluru resident M Mahesh Reddy. The case is expected to be heard on Thursday by a two-judge vacation bench. Responding to the PIL, the Karnataka government — in its three-page written reply filed in the top court — said that the Karnataka Film Chamber of Commerce has issued a letter on May 30, 2025 to the lead actor of the movie expressing its displeasure to certain statements made by him at a promotional event and has sought for his apology.

The Government also pointed out Raaj Kamal Films International, the producers of the movie, filed a writ petition before the Karnataka High Court for security for exhibition of the movie. 'Thug life' has not been, released in Karnataka following a controversy over the actor's alleged remark during the film's audio launch, where he stated that Kannada originated from Tamil.

'Sergei Baba' dies in Ukraine war, last rites in Gokarna

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS
@ Gokarna (Uttara Kannada)

SERGEI Grablevesky was a Russian soldier. He died in the ongoing war between Russia and Ukraine on April 26 but his path to salvation ran through distant Gokarna.

On Wednesday, priest Prashanth Hiregange performed the last rites of Grablevesky at Gokarna. With a picture of Grablevesky in the foreground, the priest performed Narayana Bali, a fire ceremony aimed to liberate the soul and allow it to reach its ultimate destination, and Pinda Daan, which includes offering balls of cooked rice mixed with ghee and black sesame seeds to ancestors, in keeping with Hindu customs.

As Hiregange chanted hymns, the ceremony was watched live by Grablevesky's family, friends and disciples in Russia. "We had a video conference and the rituals were telecast to his disciples in Moscow. Sergei's last rites were also performed in Pushkar and Rishikesh," said Paraneshwar Shastri, a friend of Sergei.

Grablevesky was not an ordinary soldier. He had left the Russian Army and was treading on a spiritual path. He returned to the battle only this March. It was nearly 18 years ago that Grablevesky first came to Gokarna and he immediately became besotted with Hindu culture and practices. He learnt Sanskrit and the Vedas.

For the locals in Gokarna, Grablevesky was 'Sergei Baba' and he had many followers.

"He was influenced by Indian culture, tradition and society. This is what brought him to Gokarna where he spent a lot of time. He even went to Varanasi where he stayed for sometimes," said Vinayak Shastri, a priest.

According to Parameshwar Shastri, Grablevesky used to visit Gokarna almost every year. He made friends with many locals.

"Sergei was influenced by Shaivism and used to chant holy verses so well that he used to perform Mruthyunja Rudra Yaga," said Shastri.

"One day he told his friend, Govind Nagappa Gouda, that he wanted to establish an ashram here and then set up Maya Ashram here. He had thousands of followers, particularly Russians and Ukrainians," said Shastri.

Coming, rules to mandate IST for time sovereignty

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

DID you know that the Indian Standard Time (IST) we all are familiar with is derived from the Coordinated Universal Time (UTC) with an offset of +5.30 hours? It is a successor to the Greenwich Mean Time (GMT).

Years after Prime Minister Narendra Modi made a 'One Nation, One Time' pitch, the Department of Consumer Affairs, in collaboration with CSIR-NPL and ISRO, is set to notify a bunch of rules for synchronisation of all activities with IST.

It may not appear to be a big deal for the aam aadmi, but synchronisation would make their digital transactions more secure, add accuracy to utility billing and reduce risks of cybercrime.

Currently, Indian industries depend on the Global Positioning System (GPS) of US satellites for precise and synchronised time. The downside is it can be vulnerable to manipulation in critical sectors such as finance, telecommunications, and defence.

For context, the time standard used for the recent four-day Operation Sindoor against Pakistan was not linked to the GPS to keep it away from the prying eyes of the enemy.

The government has now directed that all legal, commercial, and administrative activities be synchronised with IST.

The use of alternative time references will be prohibited unless it is specifically authorised.

Establishing a domestic source of time standard is critical for various sectors like telecom, railways, finance, SEBI, power, electronics, and stock exchanges, where even nanoseconds can make a significant difference.

> The upcoming notification of the Legal Metrology (IST) Rules, 2025. marks India's strategic shift towards time sovereignty, technological independence and digital resilience under the guiding vision of 'One Nation, One Time'

Unfinished white-topping work on Palace Guttahalli Road creates the perfect space for some to dump garbage at an intersection.

For a long time, BWSSB has dug up a large stretch of the busy road at Vinayaka Circle, near the BDA head office, to lay drain pipes, putting traffic out of gear

PROLONGED INFRA WORKS & THE TORTURE OF BENGALUREANS

BENGALURU
Ditched!
PART 01

A slew of works are ongoing across Bengaluru. These are infrastructure works, which were supposed to be completed before the onset of monsoons. But that never happened. The monsoons are here, and Bengaluru is witnessing roads scraped for white-topping (works worth around Rs 2,000 crore) by the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), huge ditches dug to lay sewage and drain pipes by Bangalore Water Supply & Sewerage Board (BWSSB) and laying of Bangalore Electricity Supply Company (BESCOM) cables.

All these works have been delayed through bureaucratic hurdles, heaping miseries upon the citizens, mainly the residents of the localities where these works have been taken up and have remained "ongoing" for months on end – that too in a city that is "famous" for its lack of footpaths for its citizens to walk on safely.

The effect of these delays is such that even BMTC routes have been forced to be altered, and buses now have to move on alternative– but already congested – roads.

Procuring police permissions to commence the works, shifting of utilities to make way for the works, and contractors engaged with multiple prior works have caused these delays, even as work stoppages are common due to rains, only further delaying their completion.

The other problem staring at these works is the pending payments from the civic agencies to the contractors, which is a constant threat for works to be stopped mid-way.

As the delays are thrust upon the people in the name of beautifying Bengaluru, the problems of the citizens only persist. Many city areas where huge ditches have remained open and roads stripped of their surface layers to remain closed for traffic movement for months on end, people – especially senior citizens and children – silently suffer, wondering when normalcy would return post these abnormal delays.

Get ready, BBP will host chimps, jaguars, pumas in coming months

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FOREST, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar B Khandre on Wednesday said that Bannerghatta Biological Park (BBP) will be welcoming 10 new wildlife species, including some exotic ones, in the next 4-5 months.

Speaking to the media on the sidelines of the virtual launch of an electric safari bus at BBP, Khandre informed that cheetahs, chimpanzees, pumas, and jaguars, among others, will be brought to Bannerghatta, under the animal exchange programme, and as gifts to the zoo from other zoos in North America, South America, and other continents. He added that a large aquarium of world-class standards will also be set up on the zoo premises, for which tenders will be called soon.

The zoo management on Wednesday launched a 22-seater EV, with a 100-kV battery, capable of traversing a distance of 160 km a day (ie., eight safari trips of two hours each).

BBP Executive Director AV Surya Sen said at present, one e-bus is being introduced, and by 2027, based on feedback and its operation, all safari vehicles here will be converted to EVs. Meanwhile, the BBP is also operating one electric safari jeep.

Khandre said the transition to electric mobility is being done to reduce fossil fuel emissions. Presently, diesel vehicles are being operated for the BBP safari. He added that work is also under way to create a smart parking system.

Separately, as per zoo records, in May alone, BBP had a record 2.85 lakh visitors. Demand for the leopard safari is also increasing.

Pertaining to the recent deaths of a zebra and nilgai at the park, Khandre said a detailed report has been sought from the chief conservator of forests, based on which action will be taken. The minister added that a zoo authority of Karnataka is also working on creating a zoo in Kalaburagi, which will be ready by December.

BBMP BEGINS BLACKTOPPING FOR 218 ROADS

Palike promises 'best' standards

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU roads are in for a band-aid job. Can the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) do what even God cannot, as a fey Deputy Chief Minister told us?

The civic body is now engaged in garnishing 218 major roads with black topping—a total of 670 km at a modest Rs 694 crore.

M Lokesh, Chief Engineer, Road Infrastructure Department, BBMP, says the 'black' magic would transform the city roads to "best" standards. He said the works are expected to be completed in the next 10 months.

In phase-1, BBMP claims it has fixed potholes on Mysuru Road and Magadi Road and the roads are in very good condition now. The work was taken up in these stretches due to heavy vehicle movement.

Lokesh said that the asphalt work will also involve using stone matrix (use of fibre material in the bitumen) and they will add it at low lying and areas where water stagnates during rains and other reasons.

"The bitumen, even if comes in contact with water, will not give away and the road will last long," said Lokesh.

"By the end of December 2025, we hope to complete the works. The BBMP will also take up footpath repairs wherever it is necessary," he added.

Road infrastructure expert D Prasad, a member of the Indian Road Congress, said the BBMP should have taken up the project in April and feared about the durability of the project.

"The base is wet due to the good monsoon. The blacktopping of roads may last up to a year now," he said.

He also added that before blacktopping, the officials have to cut the potholes into box size, add bitumen and take up proper fixation before tarring the entire road stretch as this will avoid undulation.

However, an engineer from BBMP said the blacktopping is done only when there are no rains and the base is dry.

"The work from Jnanabharathi Metro Stop to Mysuru Road covering 5.35 km and Magadi Road covering 2.5 km is almost complete and the work was taken up from May and we have completed it. We braved rains and fixed potholes and later when the weather was dry, we blacktopped and used good bitumen. The roads will last over three years now," claimed a BBMP engineer.

25,000 e-khatas ready for doorstep delivery: DKS

DCM DK Shivakumar receives the Guinness World Record certificate on Wednesday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

STATING that the state government will deliver e-khatas to property owners at their doorstep as promised, Deputy Chief Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar said on Wednesday that the process is on in Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) limits and 25,000 e-khatas will be delivered from July 1.

Addressing reporters here, Shivakumar said, "We have designed a campaign for disbursal of e-khatas in Bengaluru. The campaign was kicked off on a pilot basis in Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda's Byatarayanapura constituency. As many as 25,000 e-khatas are ready and they will be delivered at the doorstep from July 1. There are around 25 lakh houses and only about five lakh people have uploaded their documents. The campaign will be held for a month."

On B-khatas, he said, "This matter has been discussed at the cabinet meeting. We will make an announcement after looking into all legal aspects."

The DCM said that a meeting of Congress MLAs from the city on formation of corporations under the Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) was held sometime ago. The matter will be discussed with Opposition leaders also. "We will take a decision after taking them into confidence," he added.

On issues related to waste management in the city, he said under the Swachchaa Bengaluru initiative, BBMP has set up a helpline to help clear garbage. "People can take photos of garbage dumped on footpaths or other places and send them to this number. Action will be taken within a week. On pothole filling work, he said funds have been sanctioned to MLAs," said DCM. Referring to the white-topping project, he said it is going on in many places in the city and he had inspected the quality of work.

PLAN ON TO PROVIDE DRINKING WATER TO 2 CR CITIZENS

DCM DK Shivakumar on Wednesday said there is a plan to provide water to two crore citizens of Bengaluru. Speaking after receiving the Guinness World Record certificate for 5,33,642 pledges received by the week-long campaign on water conservation by BWSSB, Shivakumar stated that while there are 1.40 crore people in Bengaluru limits, there are 50 lakh others in Anekal and other parts, outside the city.

DCM QUESTIONS OFFICIALS ABOUT INADEQUATE PROPERTY TAX COLLECTION

"Though Bengaluru has grown so big, why isn't adequate property tax being collected?" This question was raised by Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, who also holds the Bengaluru Development portfolio. Expressing immense dissatisfaction with the way officials have been working, Shivakumar sought to know why despite Bengaluru growing to a massive scale, the property tax collection is not catching up with that growth. Speaking at the first quarterly Karnataka Development Program (KDP) for 2025-26 held here on Wednesday, Shivakumar said, "Officials aren't working properly. I have complete information on who is working and who is not."

19TH June : An Arien pattern adds a touch of spice to today's creative tensions, bringing a potent combination of gut instincts and heady ideas. If Aries and Gemini have one thing in common, it's an ability to adapt to the unexpected. Many people will be taking up fixed positions - which is precisely why I'd say it's time for the rest of us to compromise.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Don't expect everything to be easy, because it won't be! On the other hand, if you get stuck into life's little problems with the right mixture of compassion and determination, you could settle a series of difficulties at a stroke. Life is like that sometimes!

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
The fact that there could be a gradual relaxation of your overall mood doesn't mean that you should let down your guard. While certain people will be all sweetness and light, some individuals will be out to create havoc. Steer a careful course, and avoid the traps set for others.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Everything now focuses on your personal life, and if you know what's good for you, you will nip domestic discontent in the bud. Don't be hard on people, but do be firm, including with yourself. A little bit of discipline and determination will enhance your chances.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Questions of cash drift to the front of your mind. If you wish to spend the day shopping, or even just window-shopping, that's fair enough. Although it looks as if necessities make a better buy than luxuries, the important thing is to pamper yourself - and feel good.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
If you do feel like sounding off at other people, then please make sure you hit the right target. If you are able to be completely saintly, and are in a mood to polish your halo, replace resentment and suspicion with compassion for the human predicament.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There's a new set of lunar alignments approaching fast and, when it does finally arrive, it will signify an emotional turning-point. This, more than anything, is why you should welcome change rather than digging in your heels. There is nothing to fear, just as long as you keep your eye on the ball.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You should be just a little more cautious about making social commitments over the next few days, for when it comes to the crunch you would rather be by yourself. It's all a question of picking and choosing, and hanging out with the people who make you feel fine.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Don't be bashful about being self-centred. If you don't promote your own interests when you have the chance, you'll be no use to partners at other times. Romance is the one area where you should put others' feelings first, just as long as you don't let them walk all over you.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It's not what happens to you that's important as much as what action you take on your own behalf. This is therefore one of those times when you can alter the world around you by rearranging your opinions, strange as it may seem. An improvement in attitude now leads to a change in action down the road.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Clear the decks of outstanding emotional business, ready for a positive end to an intimate phase. Deal with personal frustrations and financial passions today, and don't let other people push you into saying anything you'll regret. And if you're waiting for an apology, don't hold your breath!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
There are times when the emotional current knocks you sideways, but you have your feet planted firmly on the ground at the moment. You should therefore be able to pick yourself up - and even feel better for the experience. In the background, by the way, family responsibilities are building up.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
This should be a routine sort of a day, which may not sound terribly exciting. But sometimes it's nice to surround yourself with the familiar. If you can keep your attention focused on essential activities, you'll create space for fulfilling your favourite pleasures later on.

HC stays notice to IPS Joshi, probe against Ningappa

Probe against 35 other officers to go on in Lokayukta raid case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday stayed the notice issued to IPS officer Srinath M Joshi by Lokayukta police, in connection with the ongoing probe against dismissed head constable Ningappa G. Ningappa was arrested for allegedly extorting crores of rupees from several government officials by leaking information about possible Lokayukta raids.

The court, however, clarified that investigation against 35 other officials named by Ningappa will continue. Justice SR Krishna Kumar passed the order after hearing the petition filed by Joshi, questioning the legality of the notice issued by Lokayukta police to appear for inquiry. Special Public Prosecutor for the Lokayukta Venkatesh Arabatti opposed the stay of the notice to Joshi, arguing that Ningappa named 35 officials and investigation would be stalled if the stay was granted. Hence, the court has to permit investigation, Arabatti pleaded.

Joshi said the allegation against Ningappa is that the latter was his subordinate when he was Chitradurga SP five years ago, but he has no connection with him. Falsely implicating him is only to harm his service records.

He stated that his house was searched on June 15 and a notice issued under Section 35(a) of BNSS, asking him to appear before Lokayukta police on June 16. Strangely, the reason was not disclosed, he claimed. Neither did they affix a copy of the complaint or FIR, except insisting that he appear before them. He is not named in the complaint or FIR either. Without informing them about the crime registered against Ningappa, they wrongly called on him for the inquiry, raising serious doubts about the Lokayukta police. Joshi, who was relieved from the Lokayukta, also filed an anticipatory bail petition before the Special Court.

Investigation stayed

The court stayed further proceedings against Ningappa, pursuant to registration of an FIR against him on June 2, till the next date of hearing. The court passed the order after hearing his petition, questioning the FIR. Meanwhile, the court adjourned the hearing of the petition filed by Ningappa's wife Chandrakala, questioning her husband's arrest, claiming it to be illegal as the arrest was shown two days after the actual arrest on May 31, and grounds of arrest were not served.

Countering the submission made by Chandrakala's counsel Venkatesh Dalwai, who claimed there is CCTV footage of the Lokayukta office, Lokayukta Special Public Prosecutor K Prasanna Shetty justified the arrest on the ground Ningappa's arrest had been intimated to Chandrakala, who was present at the time of arrest.

CONG SLAMS CENTRE FOR DENYING NOD TO PRIYANK'S US VISIT

This authoritarian approach hampers India's growth, says Grand Old Party

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Congress in Karnataka has accused the Union Government of political bias after state Rural Development and IT/BT Minister Priyank Kharge was denied clearance by Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) for an official trip to the United States.

Karnataka Deputy Chief Minister and KPCC president DK Shivakumar expressed his displeasure, drawing parallels with his own experience. "Even during my tenure as the power minister, my applications for foreign visits were often blocked by the External Affairs Ministry. Recently, I had to skip an important international conference due to the same issue," Shivakumar said.

This reflects the mindset of the Union Government, he said, adding that while a BJP minister was permitted to attend the same event, Priyank was denied which is a clear case of political discrimination.

"We need to learn to be fair in governance. When a minister from the opposition is treated this way, it is hard not to see the political motives behind such decisions," Karnataka Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre said.

The Congress state unit also took to social media to condemn the move.

"The Union Government has denied MEA clearance to Rural Development & IT/BT Minister @PriyankKharge for an important US trip, including the BIO Convention and DAC. Is this vendetta against a dedicated leader who attended VivaTech 2025 in France? This authoritarian move hampers India's growth. Demand accountability!" the party posted on X.

The tweet tagged External Affairs Minister Dr. S. Jaishankar and used hashtags like #ModiGovtFail, #PriyankKharge, and #SaveDemocracy to rally support and highlight what the party described as "an authoritarian approach" by the Centre.

The denial of clearance comes at a time when multiple Congress leaders have accused the BJP-led Union Government of using institutions to target the opposition. Priyank was scheduled to attend the Bio International Convention in Boston and Design Automation Conference in San Francisco.

FORUM APPEALS FOR CONSERVING NANDI HILLS

Bengaluru: UNIVERSAL Human Rights Service Foundation (UHRSF), a Bengaluru-based organisation, highlighted the hyper-commercialisation that has pervaded Nandi Hills for the past decade, and appealed to the Karnataka government for an immediate respite. Forum president CD Kiran said the steep and steady rise of footfall that Nandi Hills had been experiencing posed a significant threat to its biodiversity. The key objectives outlined at the meet include maintaining a clean air and water corridor, with a stress on "eco-friendly practices and low-impact activities". According to Kiran, doing so would not only protect and flourish the unique ecosystem of Nandi Hills, but also make it a site of relaxation and quiet reflection. Alternative solutions and sustainable tourism practices like eco-friendly trails were proposed, which are crucial to the long-term sustenance and enrichment of the area concerned.

Did 'pressure' from farmers' body force govt to shift cabinet meeting venue?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state government's abrupt decision to shift the cabinet meeting venue from Nandi Hills to Vidhana Soudha has triggered speculation whether it was because of pressure from Shashwatha Neeravari Horata Samithi, a farmers' organisation, which has launched a struggle for water for irrigation and other purposes in drought-hit districts such as Kolar, Chikkaballapura and Bengaluru Rural.

The cabinet meeting, which was to be held at Nandi Hills on June 19, will now be held at Vidhana Soudha. The samithi has criticised the government for its quiet decision to shift the cabinet meeting venue and termed it a "betrayal of people's expectations".

Samithi president Anjaneya Reddy claimed that the local police and officials had been in touch with his organisation since Monday, requesting it not to stage protests during the cabinet meeting at Nandi Hills.

The cabinet meeting, which was to be held at Nandi Hills on June 19, will now be held in Vidhana Soudha

"The jurisdictional deputy superintendent of police Shivakumar spoke to us, seeking our support to ensure that the meeting was held peacefully," Reddy said.

Reddy said that between 2016 and 2017 he was detained by the police thrice and kept in undisclosed locations whenever top government functionaries visited Chikkaballapura. The samithi has hundreds of supporters, he claimed.

"The officials seemed to be concerned that even if a small group staged a protest, it would be an embarrassment to the government," he said.

The samithi has been demanding that work on the Yettinahole lift irrigation project be completed at the earliest and water diverted to the parched Bayaluseeme region, he said, accusing the government of "evading questions" and failing to resolve the issues faced by farmers of the region. "We had written to the chief secretary and the government to include the water crisis in the region in the cabinet meeting's agenda. But the government chose to cancel the meeting at Nandi Hills. This shows the government is unwilling to face the people," he said.

The samithi will wait for the cabinet's decisions and step up its agitation. "We will intensify our fight for a permanent irrigation facility for the region," Reddy said.

The government has not issued any formal statement on the reasons for shifting the cabinet meeting venue from Nandi Hills to Vidhana Soudha.

C'ballapura MP Sudhakar slams Siddu govt

ENS @Bengaluru

CHIKKABALLAPURA MP Dr K Sudhakar of the BJP has lashed out at the Karnataka government for shifting the Cabinet meeting back to Bengaluru from Nandi Hills.

He said that three districts in the plains—Bengaluru Rural, Kolar and Chikkaballapura—are missing from Congress' map and sarcastically added that, according to the party, these three districts are part of other states. There were expectations from people that the cabinet meeting would discuss the implementation of many projects, including the Yettinahole and KC Valley projects and HN Valley state-3 water purification scheme. The sudden shifting is a matter of concern, as the government is ignoring the three districts, he said. "Of the 15 assembly constituencies in Chikkaballapura, Kolar, and Bengaluru Rural districts, 12 are represented by the Congress. The government should have considered this and should have gone ahead with the cabinet meeting in Nandi Hills," he said.

Several issues, including granting administrative approval to dig a new lake at the lower reaches of Arasikere and Bhaktarahalli in Chintamani taluk, were on the agenda of the cabinet meeting scheduled to be held in Nandi Hills.

The Cabinet was also expected to approve filling 164 lakes, including 45 lakes in Shidlaghatta taluk and 119 lakes in Chintamani taluk, with water from Shidlaghatta Amanikere from the treated wastewater from the Second Stage of Nagawara Valley in Hebbal, Bengaluru, at an estimated cost of Rs 237.10 crore. A decision on renaming Bagepalli as Bhagyanagara was also on the agenda.

'Protest for incentive for mango growers will go on'

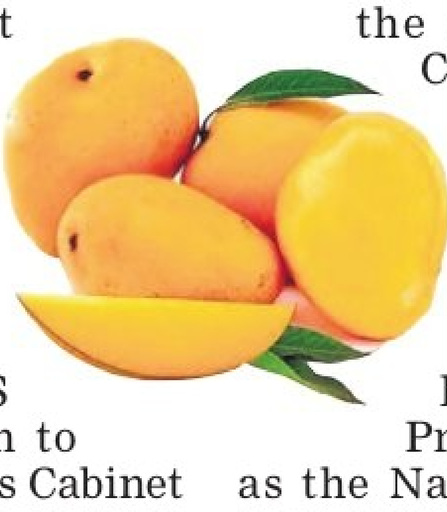
THE cabinet meeting at Nandi Hills was not cancelled but postponed, they added.

Mango growers in Chikkaballapura and Kolar districts were demanding an incentive ranging from Rs 10,000 to Rs 15,000 per quintal for their produce. The prices crashed due to ban on Karnataka mangoes in Andhra Pradesh, as the 'totapuri' variety had more water content.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah had written to Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu requesting the latter to lift the ban, but it went in vain.

On Wednesday, the JDS MLAs Samruddhi Manjunath of Mulabagilu and Venkatashiva Reddy of Srinivasapura constituency had staged a dharna at the Gandhi Statue on the premises of Vidhana Soudha in protest against the government, alleging that it had ignored the demands of mango farmers. It set the ball rolling, as they (JDS leaders), along with farmers and JDS workers, had a plan to picket the CM and his Cabinet colleagues during the Cabinet meeting at Nandi Hills.



"The farmers from across the district were prepared to arrive at Nandi Hills. But the government, as a precautionary measure, shifted the Cabinet meeting to Vidhana Soudha. But our protest demanding incentive for the mango growers will continue and will unload huge stock of mangoes at the residences of the CM and his cabinet colleagues if our demands are not met,", warned Manjunath. When asked, if the JDS could get the ban lifted by the Andhra Pradesh government as the Naidu is part of the NDA alliance, Manjunath said that he will bring it to the notice of Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy.

They also planned to raise certain issues, including the delay in implementing the Ettinahole project for the region, according to sources. Mango Growers and Sellers Association president Neelaturu Chinnappa Reddy said the farmers will intensify the agitation by dumping mangoes on the main roads in front of Vidhana Soudha.

The district administration had made elaborate preparations for the meeting to be held atop Nandi Hills, a hill station and renowned tourist destination. The hill station was closed for public from June 16 to June 20, 2025, in view of the Cabinet meeting. It may be open to public now that the cabinet meeting is shifted to Bengaluru.

The government had earlier held region-wise cabinet meetings at Kalaburagi and Chamarajanagar districts.

Speaking at a programme organised to celebrate the platinum jubilee of Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited (KPTCL) in Bengaluru on Wednesday, the CM said that the government will study the demands raised by the employees and will address them.

Eye on polls, BJP appoints district heads to build party

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

HAVING completed the formalities to appoint district presidents to strengthen the party in every district, the Karnataka BJP is gearing up for a series of elections coming up in the next few months. They also directed the party rank and file to work with an eye on Assembly polls in 2028.

On Wednesday, district presidents were called to the BJP office where party state president BY Vijayendra and other senior leaders handed over their official letters. Senior leaders will groom them to strengthen the party in their districts for zilla and taluk panchayat elections, which will set the pace for the assembly polls.

Sources in the party said each of the district presidents was told to highlight local issues like monsoon woes, farmers' issues, communal clashes etc, and involve people. "There are national issues and state issues which Karnataka's leaders are raising. There are also many issues pertaining to each district. Local leaders, including district presidents and MLAs, have been told to raise issues with MLAs and district ministers, and reach out to the people, listen to their woes and strengthen roots," sources said.

Vijayendra told TNIE the new district presidents were directed to strengthen the party in the 39 organisational districts. "We want to return to power on our own. We are in power at the Centre. We told the district presidents we are not just a responsible opposition party in the State, but also brand ambassadors of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. We need to work towards strengthening the party and coming back to power with full majority," he said.

Vijayendra said the presidents have been directed to work at the booth level with the mandal president. "We have told them not to sit at home," he said, adding that there is a need to win ZP and TP polls along with the BBMP/GBA polls to strengthen and come back to power.

Also, party state leaders will be travelling across Karnataka in the next few days.

AMUL VS NANDINI

DKS: KMF will open outlets in 8 Metro stations

ENS @Bengaluru

AS the Karnataka government is facing flak from the opposition BJP-JDS leaders over Amul opening its outlets at the Bengaluru Metro stations, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar said that they have informed the Bengaluru Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRCL) to allow Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF) to open its outlets in eight stations.

"BMRCL had called for a global tender and Amul was the lone applicant. We have instructed KMF to submit its application to BMRCL. KMF will open Nandini outlets in eight metro stations," the DyCM told reporters in Bengaluru on Wednesday. Amul has already opened its outlets in two metro stations and it is not appropriate to close down the existing outlets, the DyCM said. Sources said Amul is planning to open 10 outlets at metro stations and two are already opened, while the KMF is planning to open outlets at 12 stations, subject to BMRCL's approval.

Opposition BJP and JDS accused the Congress government of not protecting the interests of KMF by welcoming products from another state.

LoP in Assembly R Ashoka said that the Congress used the 'KMF Nandini' brand before the 2023 Assembly elections and after coming to power, it is destroying the brand. He said that the State Government is yet to clear hundreds of crores of pending dues to dairy farmers. The government had transferred an officer who was working to expand the KMF's market by introducing many new products, he said and added that the Congress Government seems to be trying to destroy the brand that was built with the hard work of farmers and committed customers.

10-hour working day proposal faces pvt employees' wrath

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government's proposal to increase work hours for private firms from the existing nine hours to 10 hours a day is facing stiff opposition from employees of private firms, including the IT/ITeS employees' association. They have threatened to stage protests and approach the courts.

State labour department officials led by Labour Secretary Rohini Sindhuri interacted with various labour organisations as there is a proposal to bring an amendment to the Karnataka Shops and Commercial Establishment Act, 1961, to fix work time as 10 hours. The government also proposes to increase overtime (OT) from maximum 10 hours to 12 hours a day.

The employees also fear that the proposed amendment will allow companies to opt for a two-shift system, instead of the existing three-shift system. "This means, one third of the workforce will be thrown out of employment," a release from the association stated.

Suhas Adiga, general secretary of the Karnataka State IT/ITeS Employees Union (KITU) noted that as per the State of Emotional Wellbeing Report 2024, 90 per cent of corporate employees in India under the age of 25 are struggling with anxiety. Due to work pressure, there have been suicides and deaths in the corporate sector, he pointed out.

According to the release from the IT/ITeS association, the proposed amendment shows that the Karnataka government is unwilling to recognise workers as human beings who require personal and social lives to survive. "Instead, it views them merely as machines to increase the profits of the corporates it serves," it stated.

KITU urged the government to reconsider this move and warned that any attempt to proceed with the amendment will be seen as a direct challenge to the 20 lakh employees working in the IT/ITeS sector in Karnataka. KITU has called upon all IT/ITeS employees to unite and stand together to resist this "inhuman attempt to impose modern-day slavery upon us", it added.

'THERE WILL BE WORLD PEACE WHEN INDIA BECOMES VISHWA GURU'

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

OUR only intention is to make India a 'Vishwa Guru', and when this is achieved, there will be world peace says, Sri Sankara Vijayendra Saraswathi Swami, the 70th Shankaracharya of Sri Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham. In a freewheeling interview with TNIE, the Kanchi seer, who was camping in Bengaluru, spoke at length on multiple things, including freeing temples from government control, language issue and more youths getting into spirituality.

Can you tell us about Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham's Dharma pracharam (propagating Sanatana Dharma)?

For ages, we have been protecting, preserving, and propagating Indian tradition, the Veda Shastra (Rigveda, Samaveda & Yajurveda), through our pathshalas (traditional Indian schools). We run schools and colleges, mainly for the economically disadvantaged, where prominence is given to imparting 'Indian culture' along with regular education. Kanchi Peetham imparts 'spiritual education' for Dharma Pracharam. The peetham imparts oriental education using the three-language formula.

What is the role of the Peetham in transforming India?

Our Veda (ancient holy texts), Vidya (education), and Vaidya (medicine) seva have helped many poor families. We run hospitals across India, with atleast one in each state, mainly providing free treatment to the poor. Our 'Veda, Vidya and Vaidya' have transformed India's growth and will continue to do so. Eradicating poverty may be a 'slogan' in the recent past, but it is there in our 'slokas', and we have been doing this for a long time. 'Deyam Deena Janaya ca Vittam' says Adi Shankara.

We have been promoting agriculture, cow farming and socioeconomic projects based on the Indian knowledge system.

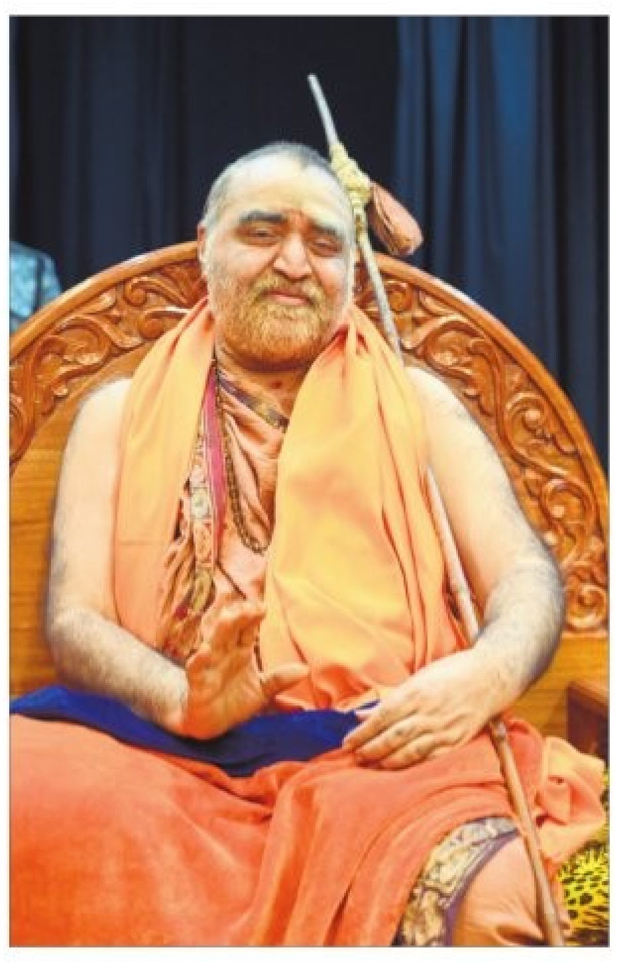
Is there a growing interest in spirituality among the younger generation? If yes, what is the reason?

Yes, there is a growing spiritual inclination among today's youths. Why do people go to medical shops? They believe that medicines will cure them. Likewise, youths believe spirituality will cure them. Youths go behind 'new things' -- no matter if they help them or not. After becoming aware that the 'new things' are of no use to them, youths turn back to Indian knowledge and spirituality.

There is a lot of debate going on about language issues. What is your say?

English, a global language, should be used just as a 'connecting language'. It can be used in offices and for administrative purposes. At our homes, we should all be using our 'mother tongues', be it Kannada, Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam, etc. We must love and protect our mother tongue. Vedas, Shastras and other Indian traditional literary works are in the Sanskrit language. It must be used in temples and for Dharma prachara.

Amid global conflicts, what is the peetham doing to promote world peace?



Sri Sankara Vijayendra Saraswathi Swami,the 70th Shankaracharya of Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham addressing devotees in Bengaluru | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

From the past many years, we have been conducting Vishwa Shanthi (World Peace) homa annually in Kashmir. Because of the Indian upbringing and culture, we view everything with a service motive and humanity, while others may see everything solely with a business motive. Others only preach humanity but hardly practice it. We not only preach humanity but also follow it. With Dharma Prachara, we can achieve unity and solidarity. We need to arrive at a 'win-win' situation to stop conflicts. Our intention is to make India a 'Vishwa Guru'. We are striving for it, and when this is achieved, there will be Loka Shanthi.

What is your response to the calls for reforms in Hinduism?

There have been calls, especially by politicians and others, irrespective of the parties, for reforms in Hinduism. They don't demand reforms where it is needed the most. What is needed now is 'worldly reforms' and not any 'religious reforms'. In case, if at all, there is a need for religious reforms, it should be left to the religious heads. They will do it. Politicians have no role in it.

What is your opinion on the government's interference in the temple affairs?

There is too much government interference in the temple affairs and culture. Temple land, properties and money should be used for Dharma Prachara. In the olden days, governments (run by Kings) were involved in Dharma Prachara. They built temples and donated generously to them. However, the irony is that the governments are taking away everything from the temples.

There is a real need to support Dharma Pracharam for masses and extending welfare programmes for temple related people like Artists (Shilpis, Nadaswara, Garland makers etc) & Archakas.

Temple must be independent. Every panchayat should have a 'Pandit' and every temple should be like 'Tirupati', and we are running a 'religious infrastructure program' to achieve this.

Do you feel there should be more understanding and unity between the government and the religious institutions?

Yes. There is no enmity between each other and both are working for the welfare of society only. Governments must function keeping in mind the interest of the nation, working on development and infrastructure. Religious institutions must be let free to function towards dharma prachara and culture & family values.

Religious mutts are helping the government, share its burden, by running schools, colleges and hospitals; in return, the government should also help the mutts for 'dharma prachara'.

Stress has become very common these days. What is your advice to people to beat the stress?

Crossing of LOC (Love Affection Culture) is the main reason for stress. Everyone demands rights, but they should also know what their responsibilities are. The family system must be strong, and lifestyle change is needed. People don't help each other. While one doesn't know who their immediate neighbour is, but would know what is happening in the United States. The main reason for stress is that we are moving away from Indian culture. A culture-based value system is needed.

What is Kanchi Kamakoti Peetham's future vision?

There are many literary works in the regional languages. They have to be translated into other languages and taken to the larger audiences. Cultural education through temples must be strengthened. Classes must be held on literature, music, Bhagwat Geeta, astrology, ethics and others.

People must devote some time to such classes. We need 'industry', as much as we need 'agriculture' and 'culture'. We need to build Atmanirbhar Bharat. India must become the Vishwa Guru, and there must be global peace. It will take time, but until then we must keep putting our efforts and wait for the results.

Axiom-4 mission to now launch on June 22

AFTER multiple delays and rescheduling of dates, the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) on Wednesday said the most anticipated Axiom-4 space mission to the International Space Station (ISS) will launch on June 22. Taking to 'X', ISRO announced the new date after Indian scientists held discussions with their counterparts from Poland and Hungary. These two countries have sent an astronaut each on the 14-day manned mission to the ISS, along with India's Gaganyatri Group Captain Shubhanshu Shukla and former NASA astronaut, who is the mission commander, Peggy Whitson. Members from Axiom Space and NASA were also part of the discussions held to address the delays and parameters.

"Based on the readiness status of the SpaceX Falcon-9 launch vehicle, the Dragon spacecraft, repairs in the Zvezda module of the space station, ascent corridor weather conditions, and the health and preparedness of the crew in quarantine, Axiom Space has informed that the next probable launch date is June 22, 2025," ISRO said. Earlier on June 14, ISRO had announced that the mission would launch on June 19, 2025. But later the same day, it was withdrawn and ISRO said the next launch date would soon be announced.

The launch was initially targeted for May 29, but deferred to June 8, 2025, because of the observations in the electrical harness in the Crew Dragon Module. The launch was then postponed to June 9 because of the delay in the preparedness of the Falcon-9 rocket. The mission was then postponed to June 10 due to inclement weather at NASA's Kennedy Space Center in Florida from where the launch was to take place.

Also, during inspections and hot fire tests that were conducted on June 8, the team had observed oxygen leak in the engine bay, besides anomalies in one of the engine actuators. The launch was then rescheduled to June 11, anticipating the issues to be addressed.

On June 11, NASA and ISRO flagged their concerns to Russian space agency Roscosmos to evaluate the new pressure signature in the Zvezda Service Module on the ISS due to the air leak. ISRO had recommended to Axiom Space, NASA and SpaceX to carry out in-situ repairs and conduct a low temperature leak test to validate the performance of system.

On account of World Environment Day, children of Mothers' Training Centre, a unit of Dr. SR Chandrasekhar Institute of Speech and Hearing, Bengaluru, were taken to a nearby nursery, from where they brought plants. Jayaram, administrator of Dr. SR Chandrasekhar Institute of Speech and Hearing, distributed the plants to children. Children also participated in a fancy dress competition on the occasion.

'Demoralising': SC on TN govt's suspension of ADGP

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday slammed the Tamil Nadu government for the suspension of ADGP H M Jayaram (Armed Police), who was taken into custody as ordered by the Madras High Court in a kidnapping case, after noting that "these kinds of (government) orders are shocking and demoralising."

"He (Jayaram) is a senior police officer. Where was the requirement for you to put him under suspension," asked a bench of Justices Ujjal Bhuyan and Manmohan. It was alleged that the abduction of a boy in a love marriage case was carried out using the official vehicle of ADGP Jayaram.

The lawyer for the Tamil Nadu government submitted that the officer was taken into custody and released on Tuesday at 5pm.

Interjecting, Jayaram's advocate Rajesh Singh Chauhan, however, argued that he was released by the police but the government has placed him under suspension and he has moved the top court challenging the HC's arrest order.

In his plea, Jayaram claimed that the Madras HC's order was "based on a confessional statement". Jayaram further alleged that the HC passed the order without "assigning any detailed reasons" relying entirely upon the purported statements of the two accused persons. He also noted that he had not moved the HC for any relief but was directed to appear before the court on June 16 for the anticipatory bail hearing of an accused person.

Jayaram further argued that the Madras HC had overlooked the fact that he is a serving police officer in the grade of an additional director general of police (ADGP) and an IPS officer with 28 years of experience.

The Supreme Court told the TN government to seek instructions in the matter and fixed the case for further hearing on June 19 (Thursday).

The Madras HC judge, Justice P Velmurugan, had passed the arrest order while hearing the anticipatory bail application filed by MLA M Jagan Moorthy. "Being a public servant, he is accountable to the public. A strong message must go out that no one is above the law," the judge had said in the order on Monday. The HC would take up the case for further hearing on June 26.

Property fraud: Karnataka HC seeks data integration

Bengaluru: The Karnataka High Court directed the Registrar of Births and Deaths to develop a software in association with the Revenue department, to access data from sub-registrars' offices, so the possibility of suppression of details related to properties of the deceased can be avoided. It said records pertaining to births and deaths available with hospitals should also be integrated with the office of the Registrar of Births and Deaths. Justice Suraj Govindaraj passed the order on a petition filed by one Siddalingaiah from Tumakuru district, pertaining to fabrication of the date of death of a woman on June 15, 1975, on which basis a sale deed was executed. She had actually executed the registered sale deed in favour of the petitioner's father in 1979, before she died in 1985.

AI to improve efficiency in power sector

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE energy department is looking at utilising Artificial Intelligence (AI) to bring in professionalism in operations and management of electricity distribution to improve Karnataka's power sector.

Energy Minister KJ George told the media on Wednesday that the department will use AI in future, but asserted there will be no job cuts. AI will help only to a certain extent, he said. Officials said AI will help in better skill management, and to control financial and power losses. AI is already being used to monitor power supply to make generation projections for the future.

George said the Central government had in-principle agreed to give two years time to implement the Revamped Distribution Sector Scheme (RDSS) to give smart meters to all consumers at low rates. At present, the scheme ends in December 2025. He said if this is done, smart meters will be distributed to all consumers at nominal rates, like in other states. Implementation of smart meters was discussed with Union Minister for Power Manohar Lal Khattar recently, he added.

The plan to levy 2 per cent cess on government departments that have to clear pending dues of around Rs 10,000 crore was okayed. The list of defaulting agencies include the Rural Development and Panchayat Raj and Urban Development departments, and BWSSB. George said smart meters cannot be given to consumers at nominal rates, unless all dues of energy supply companies (Escoms) are cleared. This is one of the conditions of the Central government. He said a proposal will be placed before the cabinet to include 40,000 farmers into the Kusum-C bracket, pending clearance for implementation of the Kusum-B scheme. This has been discussed with the chief minister and an additional Rs 10,000 crore will be needed. Energy department officials said transmission and distribution losses are being reduced from the existing 2.9 per cent and 9 per cent to 2.2 per cent.

KPCL Managing Director Pankaj Kumar Pandey said three 765kV sub-stations are being set up in Central, North and South Karnataka, and 37 sub-stations of 400kV capacity each are being set up across Karnataka. All installations will be completed in four years.

High performance conductors are being set up across existing electricity corridors to strengthen carrying capacity and reduce distribution losses.

PM REBUTS TRUMP'S MEDIATION CLAIM, RESETS CANADA TIES

AFTER months of holding his silence, Prime Minister Narendra Modi played his diplomatic hand during the G7 summit in Canada to reset two matters of consequence in India's favour. First, in a telephonic conversation with Donald Trump, he set the record straight on the US president's claim of mediating peace between India and Pakistan. During the 35-minute call on Wednesday, Modi made it clear that India has never sought third-party mediation and there was no consideration of a trade deal influencing the talks with Pakistan. He said the ceasefire was agreed between the military leaderships of the two countries during talks that were held at Pakistan's behest. After listening to the points conveyed, Trump expressed support for India's fight against terror, according to a report of the conversation given by the foreign secretary.

During the call, which took place on Trump's initiative as he had to leave the summit early to attend to the Israel-Iran crisis, Modi also declined Trump's request to stop by for a one-on-one in Washington on his way back from Canada, citing prior engagements. The conversation ended with Modi inviting Trump to the Quad summit in India later this year. In his address at the G7 outreach summit, without mentioning Trump, Modi also de-hyphenated the false equivalence between the victim and the perpetrator of terror.

However, ever eager to ingratiate himself as a deal-maker at global flashpoints, Trump reiterated his claim during an interaction with the media at the White House just a few hours after the call. Despite the typical Trumpian U-turn, the PM's clear stance during the conversation should give him a firm footing while facing the opposition at parliament's monsoon session.

Another significant outcome of Modi's trip was the decision to end two years of diplomatic impasse between India and Canada by posting high commissioners to each other's capitals at the earliest. Justin Trudeau's successor Mark Carney hit the reset button after talks with Modi on the sidelines of the G7 summit. It is a win for both sides as India has a large diaspora in Canada and Ottawa is struggling to stabilise an economy that is being mauled by Trump's tariffs. In this uncertain world, it is not easy to forge breakthroughs propitious for peace. That credit must be given where it is due.

INDIA'S QUANTUM JOURNEY NEEDS GREATER BOOST

THE Defence Research & Development Organisation and IIT Delhi have together achieved a rare technological feat that enables secure communication using quantum mechanics. It paves the way for deploying real-time applications in cyber security, development of quantum networks and reliable communication without using fibres. According to the defence ministry, secure communication over a distance of more than 1 km was achieved via an optical link established on the IIT Delhi campus under a project sanctioned by DRDO's Directorate of Futuristic Technology Management. The technology bypasses the need for optical fibres that are cumbersome and expensive to lay in dense urban environments and challenging terrains.

The experiment involved free-space quantum key distribution (QKD), which allows two communicating parties to generate and share a secret random key to encrypt and decrypt messages. QKD relies on quantum mechanics to make it more secure than traditional cryptographic methods. The process is based on quantum entanglement, in which multiple particles (photons and electrons) get linked. This interconnectedness is the core concept in quantum communication, enabling secure data transmission. Any attempt to measure or intercept the entangled photons disturbs the quantum state and allows authorised users to detect the presence of eavesdroppers, besides instantly alerting the sender and the receiver.

However, while it promises cyber security with unbreakable encryption and applications in securing data in strategic sectors of defence, telecommunications, finance, besides protecting national security-related communications, much more needs to be done. India is still in the early stages of quantum communication, in which China has taken the lead globally. China has the world's largest quantum communication network of a length of 12,000 km, which includes two quantum satellites—Micius and Jinan-1—providing space-to-ground QKD segment facilitating secure links between ground stations 1,200 km apart.

India's efforts at establishing and expanding quantum communication network need a boost through the string of centres of excellence set up in premier academic institutions by the DRDO-industry-academia troika for developing cutting-edge technologies. The efforts need to be guided to develop technologies that can make cyber networking and communication quicker and significantly more secure—for both civilian and military usage.

QUICK TAKE

FACING THE HEAT

FIFA'S Club World Cup being played across the US has worried some of the world's top athletes for more reasons than one. Top of the list is the heat stress faced during matches scheduled in early afternoons to cater to TV audiences across time zones. The world players' union, FIFPRO, has requested FIFA to revise the schedule. Players are also anxious about staying in shape for their national leagues starting soon and during next year's World Cup in the US, Mexico and Canada. Even mandatory drink breaks in air-conditioned stadiums were not always enough during Qatar 2022. Administrators of World Cup 2034 and bidders for Olympics 2036 should heed the athletes' distress.

We haven't yet reaped the benefits of our demographic dividend, which will start declining from 2040. With the population ageing faster, we are descending unprepared into a crisis

AN AGE FOR WORRYING ABOUT AGE

MOST global reports on demographic patterns often glaze over issues that are of significance to large countries like India. For its flagship annual report of 2025, the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA) conducted a survey along with YouGov of more than 14,000 men and women across 14 countries that, together, are home to more than 37 percent of the world's population. The aim was to learn about the fertility aspirations and achievements of individuals, and to understand the challenges they have experienced, if any, and the way forward. India was one of the countries studied.

Let me begin with what I believe to be India's most important demographic concerns today, which are mostly not highlighted in the UNFPA report. First, a couple of years ago, India became the world's most populous country, from being the second most populous since 1947. India's population at independence was 350 million, against China's 550 million in 1951. China's leaders invested heavily in women's education and the health of its population in the first three decades after 1949. They reaped the benefits when their country became the world's second-largest economy and a veritable superpower.

Had India's policymakers understood the importance of education and health (including nutrition) for its population, especially in the Hindi belt, our population would not be expected to peak in 2065 at over 1.65 billion. It will continue exacerbating the vicious cycle of population growth, environmental degradation and poverty unless policy corrections occur faster.

Second, India's demographic dividend began in the early 1980s and will end in 2040. During this time, the share of the working-age population is rising, and that of the dependent population falling, which would mean an attendant economic growth if the right economic policies create enough non-farm jobs. Thus, far from what policymakers believe, India is no more a youthful country, but is a rapidly ageing one. The working-age population will start shrinking from 2041.

The demographic dividend is a golden period when the young are getting better educated and desperately need non-farm jobs. However, in India today they are still not getting those jobs in the numbers needed.

There are four dimensions to the looming jobs crisis, which our governments are not willing to recognise: the young joining the labour force each year; the currently unemployed; the youth not in education/ employment/ training and willing to work, but not looking for work, hence are 'discouraged' workers; and the millions underemployed that need to be pulled out of agriculture.

Third, the first point mentioned above is tied to the fact that India's population problem has essentially been a Hindi-belt problem, and is now one confined to three large northern states—Bihar (with a total fertility rate of 3), Uttar Pradesh (2.7) and Jharkhand (2.4), the only major states with TFRs above the replacement level, while India's overall TFR is 2.0.

UNFPA 2025 tells us that global fertility rates have declined from an average of 5 children per woman in 1950 to 2.25 in 2024. So India, as a whole, is doing better (except for the three large states) than the world average, although it will need to do much better.

These are also the three states with the highest 'unmet need' for family planning—an indication of the failure of successive governments in these states. While the national average for unmet need is 12.9 percent (National Family Health Survey 2021), in UP it is 18.1 percent and in Bihar 21.2 percent. These numbers speak volumes about the lack of reproductive health services in the two states that together account for a fourth of India's population.

But unmet need for family planning is only the tip of the iceberg. The real issue runs deeper: in Bihar, 42.5 percent of girls are married by the age of 18, whereas the overall rate for India is 26.8 percent. That gives the lie to all the talk about 'Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao'.

Clearly, the public health messaging system is not working and schools are not teaching the most important lessons on fertility. UNFPA 2025 reminds us that gender inequality continues to impact fertility aspirations, with women often bearing the brunt of societal expectations—and the Hindi-belt states are no exception.

The effects of our reproductive health system's failure get worse. Currently, the use of 'any family planning method' in India is only at 53.5 percent—that is, nearly half of Indian couples don't use any family planning method. But in UP, it is worse, at only 41.5 percent for 'any method' and 31.7 percent for 'any modern method'. For Bihar, these numbers are even worse at 24.1 percent and 23.3 percent, respectively.

The UNFPA's survey in 14 countries showed that nearly one in three respondents said they or their partner had experienced an unintended pregnancy. So, with low use of family planning and high incidence of child marriage, should we be surprised if UP and Bihar are still 'star' performers when it comes to high fertility rates? Such performance has larger consequences for these states and the country as a whole.

It means they also have remained with the lowest per capita incomes among all states. Even their distance from the national mean per capita income has increased consistently over the decades.

Another result is India's metro and Tier 2 cities have become living nightmares. As India urbanises (thanks to mass migration from mainly the Hindi belt to other states) in increasingly haphazard ways, and as the population rises to 1.65 billion over the next 40 years, the rest of India's cities and towns will become incrementally unlivable.

Meanwhile, there is yet another crisis looming—an ageing society. Half of India's current workforce of 610 million, is over the age of 45. In 15 years, these workers will retire. "There is no reason for population ageing to come as a surprise today," demographers note (UNFPA 2024). What should be "most startling, then, is not the speed at which the world is changing, but our collective resistance to navigating these changes with preparation and circumspection", notes UNFPA 2025.

Yet, India's leaders seem unaware of the crisis of ageing, nor are they seen to be doing enough about the sustained high fertility, low contraceptive use and high incidence of early marriage in some states. (Views are personal)

GOING BACK TO NO-GO ZONES

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

AS Israel seeks to flatten Tehran and Iran bombs Tel Aviv into a version of Beirut, here's a case for the revival of demilitarised 'open cities' of cultural significance.

A post on the matter by G S Seda set me down the path of history-leafing and thinking about the past, present and future of demilitarised urban areas. Even as war-makers distinguish less and less between combatant and non-combatant, between logical targets and unreasonable collateral, between cultural inviolability and military vulnerability, entire conurbations have become acceptable as strike-worthy zones.

The history of war strategy deliberately levelling heritage cities is long—Timbuktu, Benin, Baghdad, Mandalay, Hiroshima, Nagasaki, Dresden, Aleppo, Afrin, Ypres, Sarajevo, Palmyra, Mostar, Narva, Magdeburg, Warsaw, Norrköping, Kyiv and London are just a few examples of cultural pulverisation in times of war.

We seem not particularly moved by entire cities blitzed by indiscriminate bombing, or historio-cultural sites of significance within cities being razed in attempts at ethnic eradication from history. We take heritage sites in the quotidian cityscape for granted, but bombs and missiles—or even rampaging soldiery—don't.

Until the Second World War—when bombs were directed not by live satellite feeds or GPS, but by cartography—maps had areas of protection mapped out. Bombs were aimed for maximum damage to armaments production or arms transportation facilities, at airfields set outside urban spaces, at dams located far from cities, at shipyards, at supply lines.

In 1939, when Germany invaded Poland, the mayor of Kraków declared it an open city after a Polish army division moved out. It was occupied by the German army with little fighting. In 1940, the Belgian government declared Brussels an open city, minimising destruction. Also in 1940, the French government moved to Bordeaux after declaring Paris an open city, thus saving the city's cultural sites. In 1941, the then Kingdom of Yugoslavia declared Belgrade an open city, preventing further destruction. In 1942, after the Dutch forces had left, Batavia (now Jakarta) was declared an open city, and the Japanese took it over with little destruction. In 1943, following the cessation of Allied bombing, the Italian government declared Rome an open city, halting razing even as German troops fled. In 1944, the retreating Germans declared Florence an open city, preventing rapine during the chase. Again in 1944, the harried Germans declared Athens an open city before departing. They did the same to Hamburg in 1945, leaving it preserved for the British troops to take over.

But missilery brought its own dynamics of lack of human supervision. London was never declared an open city, and Hitler may never have respected that status even if it was. During the Blitz that reduced London to a smoking ruin, Hitler's V2 long-range ballistic missiles—the world's first, and named Vengeance Weapon 2 for the civilian damage it wreaked—caused carnage far above and beyond military targets. Britain, like Germany, had embedded its weapons and defence machinery among thickets of civilians, both to hide them from scrutiny and to cushion them with human flesh.

AFP

Prohibition on attacking open towns and undefended places was codified in the 1907 Hague Convention. But the Second World War made civilian and culturally significant zones fair targets again. The bombing of Tehran and Tel Aviv should make the world revive the idea of non-militarised cities

The expansion of collateral-damage zones carried over exponentially into the US's post-war missile and bomb development, built by expatriated Nazi rocketeers brought into the US through Operation Paperclip. The zenith of the idea of mass obliteration of civilians was Operation Meetinghouse in March 1945, during which Tokyo was fire-stormed with incendiary bombs in what became the deadliest conventional air-bombing in WW2. (This was followed by the since-unmatched civilian slaughter of Hiroshima and Nagasaki five months later. But it might be instructive to note that more people died during the conventional bombing of Tokyo than in the nuclear bombing of Nagasaki.) By this time, war-makers had obliterated the combatant-noncombatant binary.

The prohibition on attacking open towns and undefended places was first included in the 1874 Brussels Declaration. It was first codified in the Regulations Respecting the Laws and Customs of War on Land annexed to the 1907 Hague Convention IV respecting the Laws and Customs of War on Land.

But here's the strange thing. The WW2 obliteration of cities took place despite the 1923 Hague Rules concerning the Control of Wireless Telegraphy in Time of War and Air Warfare, which were drafted by a commission of jurists appointed by France, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, the UK, and the US, and which provided that "air bombardment is legitimate only when it is directed against a military objective", and that "bombardment of cities, towns, villages, habitations and buildings which are not situated in the immediate vicinity of the operations of the land forces, is forbidden".

The latest genuflection to the ideal of protected zones was Protocol I of the 1977 Geneva Conventions, which did not explicitly define 'open cities' but included the concept of 'non-defended localities'.

It is time we returned to this idea of civilian inculpability, but the concept that peoples go to war, not just countries, has taken hold. In this implacable, scorched-earth view, entire populations are fair game, not just militaries. Cultures constitute the enemy, not just states. It is not enough to level Gaza, but to extirpate Palestinians.

Time to demilitarise Tehran and Tel Aviv. Time for attrition-attracting systems of offence and defence to be externed from cities.

In Canada, Modi calls for unified global stand against terrorism

Calls Pahalgam terror strike a direct assault not just on India but on shared global values

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

Prime Minister Narendra Modi takes part in the Outreach Session on Energy Security at the 51st G7 Summit in Alberta, Canada on Wednesday | PTI

IN a forceful intervention at the G7 outreach session, Prime Minister Narendra Modi called for a consistent, unified global response to terrorism, warning that selective approaches and double standards threaten the credibility of the international fight against violent extremism.

Modi's remarks come against the backdrop of the April 22 terror attack in Pahalgam, Jammu and Kashmir, which killed 26 people. Without naming any country, Modi described the attack as a direct assault not just on India, but on shared global values.

"The terrorist attack was not only on Pahalgam, but also on the soul, identity, and dignity of every Indian. It was an attack on the entire humanity," he told world leaders gathered in Kananaskis, Canada.

Modi took aim at what he called the international community's inconsistent posture on terrorism. "On one hand, we are quick to impose all kinds of sanctions based on our own preferences. On the other hand, countries that openly support terrorism are rewarded," he said. His remarks appeared to reflect India's long-standing frustration with international leniency toward state sponsors of terrorism.

"There should be no place for double standards on terrorism," the PM said, asserting that global peace and democratic stability depend on a clear, collective approach. "If any country supports terrorism, it will have to pay the price for it," he added.

Modi also used the platform to underline the disproportionate impact of conflict and instability on developing nations. Speaking on behalf of the Global South, he noted that these countries are most vulnerable to crises — be it food, fuel, fertiliser, or finance. "Unfortunately, the Global South suffers the most from uncertainty and conflicts," he said, reaffirming India's commitment to amplify their concerns at international forums. "India considers it its responsibility to bring the priorities and concerns of the Global South to the world stage," the PM said.

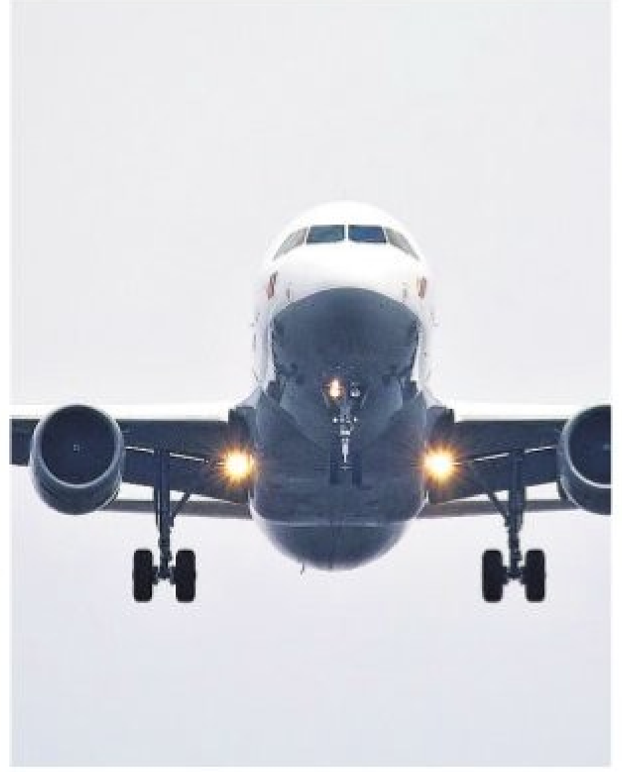
"Moving forward on the fundamental principles of availability, accessibility, affordability, acceptability, India has chosen the path of inclusive development," he said.

The PM highlighted the need to ensure energy security for all through a sustainable and green pathway and elaborated on India's global initiatives such as the International Solar Alliance, Coalition for Disaster Resilient Infrastructure and the Global Biofuels Alliance, towards this objective. "AI, itself, is an energy-intensive technology. If there is any way to sustainably fulfil the energy requirements of a technology-driven society, it is through renewable energy," he said

Modi's address came during his first visit to Canada in a decade, and the first since bilateral relations soured in 2023 following Canadian allegations of Indian involvement in the killing of a pro-Khalistan separatist — a charge New Delhi rejected as "absurd" and "politically motivated."

Closure of air space over Iran hits ops, Indian carriers cancel flights

S LALITHA @ New Delhi



EVEN as the airlines were somehow managing the closure of air space in Pakistan post the Pahalgam terror attack on April 22, the closure of air space in Middle East countries has put enormous stress on them. Cancellation of flights or circuitous routes has become the norm since June 13 after closure of air space was announced.

"The closure of air space by Pakistan followed by Iran, Iraq and then Jordan has forced us to take a roundabout route via Egypt, which involves an additional 45 to 60 minutes travel for every flight. On the day, the closure of air space was announced, we had to divert 16 flights when they were airborne," an Air India official said.

"We operate an average of 50 flights (inward and outward) daily from India to the US and Europe. All of them have to go down south and fly through Egyptian air space. It has definitely increased the turnaround time for all our flights," the official said.

Air India connects cities in Europe, such as Vienna, Copenhagen, London, Zurich, Milan, Paris and Frankfurt. it connects Los Angeles, Newark, New York City and San Francisco in the US.

Making operations tougher are the stringent tests ordered by the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) in the aftermath of the Ahmedabad flight accident, he said. "These tests take anywhere between 4 and 7 hours," an official said.

Air India Express cancellations

Though AI's subsidiary Air India Express does not operate beyond Iran, it was also impacted because of the crowded airspace in Dubai.

An Air India Express spokesperson said, "We cancelled four flights today and they were planned cancellations. We operate two pairs of flights daily between Mangaluru and Dubai. We cancelled one pair today. There was no other reason except the heavy congestion in the air space in Dubai. Due to the closure of the Iran air space, most international airlines are now flying through the Dubai airspace."

They are planned cancellations and the passengers are intimated in advance before they leave their homes.

Air India Express has cancelled flights between Sharjah and Kochi, Mangaluru and Dubai, Tiruvananthapuram and Dubai, Sharjah and Indore and Sharjah ad CCJ.

Indigo refused to reveal details about its cancellations or delayed flights and asked this reporter to speak to the Civil Aviation Ministry about it.

AI flight to Bali returns due to volcanic eruption

An Air India flight carrying over 200 passengers on a Boeing 787 flight from New Delhi to Bali returned mid-way on Wednesday due to a volcanic eruption in Bali. It is understood that the flight had departed at 9.55 pm on June 17 from IGI Airport. "The flight had flown over two and a half hours when it was asked to return to Delhi due to reports of volcanic eruption near the destination airport in the interest of safety," said officials.

Mamata takes Emergency jibe at BJP, says Constitution being undermined

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

HITTING out at the Modi government for its decision to observe June 25 as 'Constitution murder day', West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday called it a 'mockery of democracy', asserting that her government will not observe the same.

She also accused the BJP of consistently attacking democratic institutions and undermining the Constitution it claims to uphold.

Last year, the government announced that it would observe June 25 as 'Constitution murder day' every year.

Slamming the BJP over what she termed as undemocratic practices, Banerjee asked whether the "toppling" of democratically elected governments in Maharashtra and Bihar by the BJP was not an attack on the Constitution.

"Those who do not respect the Constitution speak about constitutional morality. If something happens in Bengal, 155-156 teams are being sent. What happened during riots in Gujarat? They are murdering federalism and rights," said the TMC chief.

She added, "November 8 should also be observed as 'Economy Destruction Day. This is nothing but hypocrisy. We can observe 'Samvidhaan Hatya Diwas' every day, given the way the BJP is trying to change and undermine the Constitution." Accusing the BJP of weakening democratic checks and balances, she alleged that the BJP has ensured that all the pillars of democracy, be it the Election Commission or the media, are compromised.

Talking about security lapses in the Pahalgam attack, Banerjee said that the government ignored the Opposition's demand of holding a special Parliament session. "Pahalgam terror attack took place 57 days ago. Our party raised five questions on Pahalgam attack and none of them have been answered," she said.

In a dig at the central leadership, Banerjee said, "Who is the Prime Minister of the country, Narendra Modi or Amit Shah? It looks like Shah is running the country." However, Banerjee spared Congress from the criticism. "You can fight with Rahul Gandhi as he is the LoP. But there are other political parties, which were formed after the Emergency. Did you ask for their opinion?" she said.

Accusing the BJP of altering the Constitution, she said that the government is forcing their agenda on people. "They are Jumla Sarkar. They took the Parliament away from us to build a new one," she said.

Targeting the Centre over its adversary attitude towards the state, Banerjee said the Union government withheld arrears of the state for four years.

The Centre last year declared June 25 to be observed annually as Constitution Murder Day to mark the anniversary of the Emergency imposed in 1975'a move criticised as an attack on democratic processes.

Govt forcing its agenda on people: TMC chief

States told to hold yatras on 50th year

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

FROM organising mashaal/e-torch yatras, screening short films, and mass contact programmes to outreach in schools and colleges, the Centre has directed all state governments and Union Territories to undertake a year-long commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the imposition of the 'Emergency' on June 25, as 'Constitution Murder Day'.

In a letter to Chief Secretaries, the Union Culture Ministry said, "The occasion is not merely for remembrance but for deep reflection and renewed commitment to democratic values and constitutional morality. In this regard, the Ministry of Culture is undertaking a yearlong commemoration starting on June 25, 2025, till June 25, 2026".

The highlight of the year-long events would be the Mashal/E-torch yatra, where six mashaals/e-torches representing the 'spirit of democracy' are to be flagged off from Delhi on June 25, 2025. The torch procession will culminate at Kartavya Path, New Delhi, on March 21, 2026, and will be attended by Prime Minister Modi. The details of the route map were being worked out, said the ministry. Besides the yatras, the ministry has also charted out exhibitions, seminars, speeches, and outreach to schools and colleges as part of its programmes.

The ministry further asked the states to appoint a nodal officer to coordinate with the ministry regarding the events,

The letter further states that on June 25, the ministry has planned mass public programmes to promote the spirit of democracy. "The participants can carry the national flag and placards bearing pre-approved messages such as: "More power to democracy', 'India: Mother of Democracy,' 'Long Live Democracy, and 'Salute to Sengol-in the Spirit of Democracy," it said.

To evoke a patriotic mood, patriotic songs, short films, and street plays will be continuously played and performed at the venue, the ministry said.

A special enclosure will be created for invitees representing individuals directly affected by the Emergency, it said. A replica of the Sengol symbolising righteous rule will be placed prominently near the stage. There will be a large canvas to enable people to express their sentiments through approved slogans in the local language at the entrance, it said.

"A dedicated exhibition must be organised across 50 prominent high-footfall locations (such as malls, railway stations, post offices, petrol pumps, schools, and government offices. A balanced distribution between rural and urban areas is to be maintained for inclusive outreach," it suggested.

It further said that the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting will produce a short film on 'Samvidhan Hatya Diwas, which will be made available on its website after June 22.

It stated that the imposition of the Emergency from June 25, 1975, stands as a stark reminder of the darkest period in India's democratic history.

"This day has been notified as "Samvidhan Hatya Diwas" vide Ministry of Home Affairs Notification dated July 11 2024. Emergency witnessed a sweeping suspension of civil liberties, erosion of constitutional safeguards and unprecedented centralisation of executive power. Fundamental rights were breached, press silenced under strict censorship, thousands of political leaders, journalists and civil society members were imprisoned," said the letter.

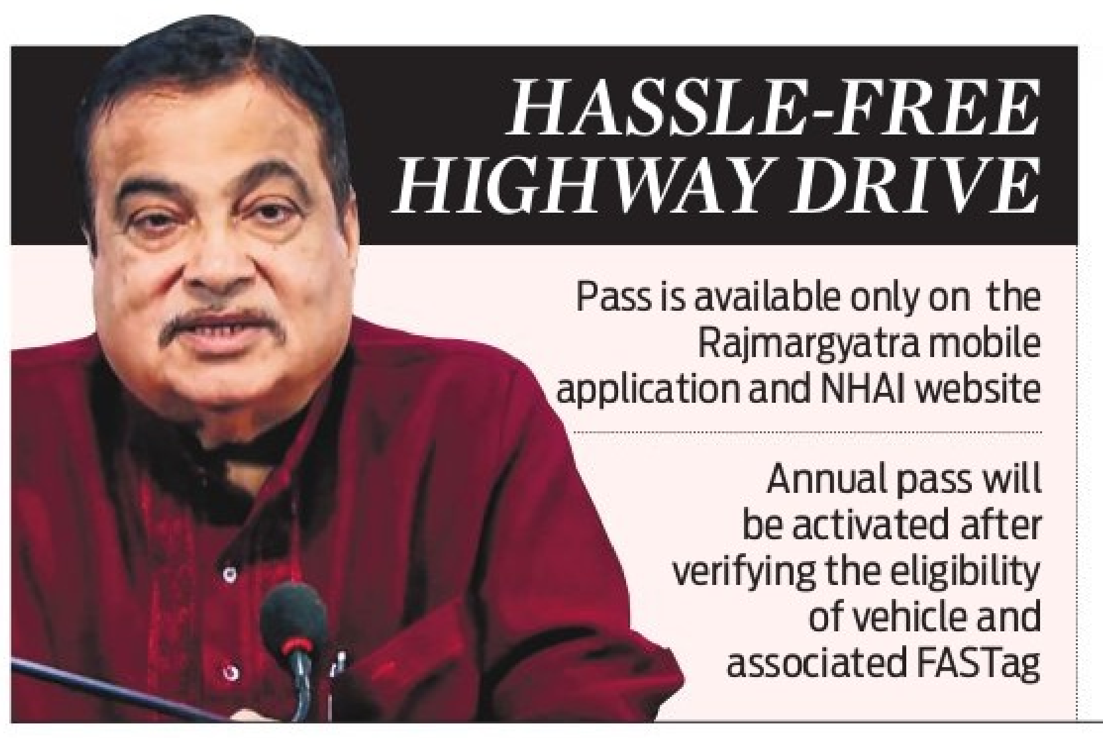
@₹3K/yr, FASTag to ensure smooth sail: Gadkari

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi



HASSLE-FREE HIGHWAY DRIVE

Pass is available only on the Rajmargyatra mobile application and NHAI website

Annual pass will be activated after verifying the eligibility of vehicle and associated FASTag

ONCE THE PAYMENT IS CONFIRMED, THE PASS WILL BE ACTIVATED ON THE REGISTERED FASTag

Fee plazas on expressways and state highways by the state governments or local bodies are not covered under the scheme

Once 200 trips limit or one year's validity is completed, the pass will automatically revert to a regular FASTag

IN a major relief to frequent national highway users, Union Minister for Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari announced on Wednesday an annual FASTag pass scheme, which significantly reduces toll expenses for non-commercial private vehicles such as cars, jeeps, and vans. The yearly pass priced at ₹3,000 is considered a step towards hassle-free highway travel and will come into effect from August 15.

The pass will be valid for one year from the date of activation or up to 200 trips -- whichever is earlier. Under the scheme, a vehicle crossing a toll plaza will be counted as one trip, and a round trip (to and fro) will be lodged as two trips; thereby, a user, on average, will pay ₹15 per toll crossing.

"For 200 trips, the toll charges generally come to more than Rs 10,000. With the introduction of ₹3,000 annual FASTag pass, the average cost of each toll gate will be about ₹15. This way, users will save around ₹7,000 annually. The annual pass will enable seamless and cost-effective travel across National Highways throughout the country. A dedicated link for activation and renewal will soon be made available on the Rajmarg Yatra App as well as on the official websites of the National Highways Authority of India and the Ministry of Road Transport and Highway," Gadkari said.

The scheme is only for highways and expressways under the jurisdiction of the Central Government. Gadkari stated that the new arrangement addresses long-standing concerns regarding toll plazas within a 60 km radius and simplifies toll payments through a single, affordable transaction. In March, the minister announced that the Government might introduce an annual or lifetime pass scheme.

"By reducing wait times, easing congestion, and minimising disputes at toll plazas, the Annual Pass aims to deliver a faster and smoother travel experience for millions of private vehicle owners," he added.

The NHAI is entrusted with the maintenance and management of the National Highways of about 70,000 km length of a total network of 1,50,000 km. Additionally, NHAI is mandated to collect user fees (tolls) on these highways by the National Highway Fee (Determination of Rates and Collection) Rules, 2008.

Currently, a user fee is collected for approximately 45,000 km of National Highways and Expressways. There are approximately 1,200 toll plazas, which are maintained either by the NHAI or concessionaires. Since February 2021, FASTag has been made mandatory for the payment of user fees at National Highway toll plazas, with a provision for a 100 per cent penalty for cash or non-FASTag payments. According to the ministry, more than 98 percent of user-fee payments are made through FASTag at toll plazas.

ED cracks the whip on online betting apps, records cricketers' statements

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

EXPANDING its investigation into the illegal online betting apps case, the Enforcement Directorate has questioned and recorded statements of cricketers and celebrities, including Harbhajan Singh, Suresh Raina and Urvashi Rautela, sources said on Wednesday.

They were questioned as part of the ED's investigation into promotion of banned online betting app platforms like 1xBet. The platforms were using 'surrogate names', such as 1xbat, in ad campaigns that include web links and QR codes to redirect users to the original (and illegal) betting platform in blatant violation of current laws, said sources.

This newspaper did a story on September 12, 2022 titled 'Ex-cricket World Cup stars endorse product linked to online betting company with dubious links'.

The ED had earlier said that these platforms presented themselves as hosting skill-based games but used rigged algorithms that classify them as 'gambling operations' under existing Indian laws.

A preliminary inquiry suggested that multiple laws may have been violated, including the Information Technology Act, the Foreign Exchange Management Act, and the stringent Prevention of Money Laundering Act, and government notifications, sources said.

A source in the ED said, "The online betting app platforms have gained massive visibility by partnering with celebrities and influencers — even in defiance of explicit government bans." So far, none of the celebrities' and sportspersons' teams have released any official statements on the matter.

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

REELING under ethnic violence for over two years, Manipur Governor Ajay Kumar Bhalla has written to Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharam seeking ₹1,000 crore special central assistance to help avert a deepening fiscal crisis, sources said on Wednesday.

Bhalla has been directly ruling Manipur since the state was put under President's Rule three months back.

Sources said he warned that the prolonged unrest has devastated Manipur's revenue streams, crippled economic activity, and left the state struggling to meet basic financial obligations.

Bhalla also highlighted pressing concerns, including a pension backlog of ₹600 crore and stalled payments under key welfare schemes, they said.

- 'Why keep me alive,' says weeping Vishwas shouldering Ajay's bier
- Statements of nearly 150 relatives recorded to establish identities

Lone survivor bids tearful farewell to brother in Diu

Vishwas breaks down as he attends cremation of brother in Diu | EXPRESS

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

COASTAL Diu is in collective grief, with 14 of its own lost in the Ahmedabad plane crash, including the brother of Vishwas, the lone survivor. A wave of anguish swept the town as the coffins began arriving one after another since Tuesday night.

Among the inconsolable was Vishwas, who survived the crash and returned home with his older brother, Ajay, in a coffin. Vishwas spared no thought for his luck, burdened by the pain of loss his survival couldn't justify.

"Why did you keep me alive… kill me too… now what should I do when I go home?" a weeping Vishwas kept asking at the funeral ground on Wednesday, breaking down as he gave a shoulder to his brother's bier.

Ajay's wife was unable to bear the shock and grief and needed hospitalisation after her health deteriorated.

Vishwas, too, returned home after being discharged from the Ahmedabad Civil Hospital only on Tuesday, around 7:30 pm. The doctors say his physical wounds are healing; the inner scars he carries, however, are another matter.

Superintendent Dr Rakesh Joshi revealed that Vishwas was under psychiatric care during his stay at hospital. For the first three days, doctors withheld the truth from him that he was the only one to survive the crash while his brother and all others perished.

Hoping to protect his mental state, doctors repeatedly reassured him that his brother was still looking for him.

However, truth has a cruel way of finding its way in. When Vishwas' family arrived at the hospital in mourning clothes, their faces gave away what words couldn't hide.

The reality hit him like another crash. Vishwas broke down, whispering again and again: "I couldn't save my brother… I couldn't save anyone… I don't want to live anymore."

The hospital immediately assigned psychiatric doctors to counsel him twice or thrice daily. Still, his suicidal thoughts persisted, with the survivor struggling under the unbearable weight of guilt and loss.

Back in Diu, another reality strikes Vishwas as he looks at his three-year-old son. Ajay's two daughters had died due to illness in London some time ago. Now he is gone, too.

Vishwas Kumar also has an altered life ahead of him: the curious glances he will always draw as the designated survivor of AI 171.

Crash probe intensifies, 206 DNA samples matched, rescue teams scour wreck

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AUTHORITIES investigating the Air India AI-171 crash have recovered over 100 mobile phones and 20 laptops from the crash site. The devices have been sent for forensic analysis to look for recorded evidence of what happened in those fateful seconds on June 12.

More than 150 passports and several medical files have also been found. Statements of nearly 150 relatives of the deceased have been recorded to establish identities and travel histories.

Simultaneously, 200 individuals have been questioned, including passengers' contacts and ground staff, as investigators seek any clues that can aid the investigation.

The Aircraft Accident Investigation Bureau leads the probe, coordinating with Boeing experts, central intelligence units, and local aviation authorities to establish the exact cause behind the crash.

Investigation agencies have secured CCTV footage covering multiple angles of the airport premises. They are ruling nothing out at this point – human error, technical failure, or sabotage.

The Cockpit Voice Recorder (CVR) and the second black box have already been recovered and are under scrutiny to piece together the final moments of the doomed aircraft.

Officials also confirmed the recovery of personal valuables, including gold and silver jewellery, raising hopes for families seeking closure. They are being catalogued.

Meanwhile, the process of identifying and handing over the bodies of the Ahmedabad plane crash victims continues, with 206 DNA matches confirmed by Wednesday afternoon. Of these, 169 bodies have been handed over to grieving families.

The relatives of 15 victims still await the authorities locating or matching the remains. Officials say the process of identifying the three victims is ongoing. Five families are expected to collect the bodies of their loved ones soon, while the hospital is in contact with 10 other families.

Authorities have released a list of nationalities of the deceased whose bodies have been identified so far: 123 Indians, 27 Britons, 4 Portuguese, 1 Canadian. The bodies have been handed over to relatives at 27 locations worldwide.

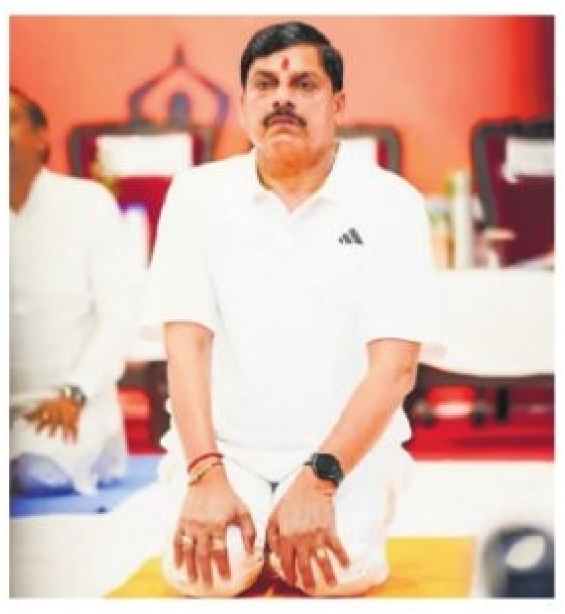
CM turns fitness guru for young legislators

A resolute grappler in his younger days, Chief Minister Mohan Yadav turned yoga and fitness guru for young and first-time ministers and legislators ahead of the final day of the three-day BJP training camp for 200 odd MPs and MLAs at Pachmarhi hill station recently. Early on the final morning, the CM demonstrated the toughest Shirshasana and Mayurasana. Racalling his time as a wrestler, the CM highlighted the importance of staying fit and strong. He even challenged young MLAs to bend his arm, which they failed to do. Many youngsters could be heard murumuring later that the CM is 'rock solid', even at the age of 60.



2-time former MLA quits Congress

Two-time former MLA Virendra Raghuvanshi has quit the Congress – 19 months after he joined the grand old party having quit the BJP. Citing health reasons, Raghuvanshi quit the principal opposition party on Monday. Raghuvanshi is the former MLA from Kolaras and Shivpuri seats of Gwalior-Chambal region's Shivpuri district. He had won the Shivpuri assembly seat in a 2006 byelection as a Congress candidate. Twelve years later, he won the Kolaras seat on a BJP ticket, but left the ruling party in September 2023, two months before elections and rejoined the Congress. Raghuvanshi, however, was denied a ticket by the Congress in the 2023 assembly polls.

Maha move as Hindi becomes mandatory as 3rd language in schools

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Mahayuti government has issued a fresh order stating that Hindi will be taught as a third language to students in Marathi and English medium schools in Maharashtra from Classes 1 to 5.

A government resolution (GR) issued on Tuesday night said Hindi will "generally" be the third language, instead of being mandatory, but gave an option to opt out if 20 students per grade in a school express the desire to study any Indian language other than Hindi.

While some Marathi language advocates accused the government of reintroducing the policy through the "backdoor" after initially backtracking, the opposition Congress said the BJP is trying to impose its 'one nation, one language' formula.

"Hindi will not be the third mandatory language but it will be there as a third optional like other languages excluding Marathi and English. But the condition is that if schools fail to get over 20 students for other than Hindi as third language, then Hindi will be taught as the third language in primary schools," said the GR.

"Even if the 20 students show a keen interest in studying any other third language like French or Spanish, then it is not mandatory for the government to provide them the teacher of that particular language. That language will be then taught by using online mediums," the GR said.

Criticising the move, Maharashtra Congress president Harshvardhan Sapkal said the BJP has made Hindi as the third mandatory language by depriving students of other optional languages, infrastructure and resources. "BJP is trying to fool the people of Maharashtra by using complex gimmicks in its GR. BJP-RSS is trying to impose its one nation, and one language formula through this notification. However, we will strongly protest against it," said Sapkal.

MNS chief Raj Thackeray warned of protests if Hindi is imposed in the state. "The government may have announced Hindi as optional third language, but it has already printed Hindi textbooks, therefore they may again impose Hindi as third language," he said.

Cops, smugglers clash, 1 dead in Raj encounter

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

A fiery encounter broke out between the police and cow smugglers in Rajasthan's Deeg district on Wednesday afternoon. In the exchange of fire, one alleged smuggler was killed, while one of his accomplices sustained injuries and has been admitted to a Bharatpur hospital.

Three policemen were also injured during the exchange, as gunshots hit their bulletproof jackets. The incident occurred around 2:30 PM in the Pahadi police station area. According to station in-charge Yogendra Singh, Hasam alias Kadha was escorting a Tata 407 vehicle loaded with cows while riding a motorcycle along with his son Aashiq and two others.

Acting on a tip-off, the police intercepted them near Ghatmika village. Upon seeing the police, the smugglers opened fire. The police retaliated, leading to a gunfight that lasted over half-hour-long. The other smugglers fled the scene with the vehicle during the exchange.

Hasam, a resident of Kanwadi village, and his son Aashiq kept firing at the police along with their accomplices. Aashiq died on the spot due to bullet injuries, while Hasam was injured and later referred to RBM Hospital in Bharatpur.

Modi to announce bonanzas during poll-bound Bihar visit

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi's scheduled visit to Bihar on June 20 to attend a railway function followed by a public rally in Siwan holds political significance. Considered a stronghold of the RJD, Siwan is home to a sizeable Muslim and Yadav voter base – demographics the BJP aims to influence ahead of assembly elections due in October-November.

Siwan and adjoining districts of Gopalganj and Chhapra are politically critical for the NDA. Modi's address is expected to target RJD chief Lalu Prasad Yadav, especially after a controversy erupted over placement of Dr BR Ambedkar's picture near his feet.

"Narendra Modi will not miss the chance to target RJD over the issue, in a bid to polarise Dalit votes in favour of the NDA across Siwan, which has a 45% Dalit population," said political observer RK Verma.

He added that the PM will highlight the "double engine" government's commitment to development and accused the Opposition of playing politics over Dalit issues.

"There is also a strong chance of the PM speaking on the caste census, for which his government issued a notification a few days ago," an NDA leader said.

"PM may highlight how the new Waqf law is designed to benefit economically weaker Muslim women and families, particularly from the Pasmanda community," he said.

The PM will flag off a Vande Bharat train from Patliputra to Gorakhpur. He is scheduled to inaugurate and lay foundation stone for projects worth ₹9,519 crore in Siwan. "The PM's rally will highlight our developmental agenda, countering the Opposition's fake narrative," a senior NDA leader, wishing not to be named.

As Siwan is the birthplace of India's first President, Dr Rajendra Prasad, the PM is likely to use this historical connection to strike an emotional chord with the public.

In a 1st, state set to roll out e-voting process

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

IN a first in the country, the Bihar state election commission has decided to roll out an e-voting system on Android-based mobile phones. This novel electoral process is set to be introduced in the upcoming municipal and urban body elections to be held on June 28.

The e-voting process will be executed through two mobile applications, state election commissioner Deepak Prasad said, adding, so far, nearly 10,000 electorate have registered themselves for e-voting.

Prasad asserted that 50,000 voters will be able to exercise their franchise through e-voting process, without having to visit polling stations. "Migrant workers, pregnant women, physically disabled, senior citizens and seriously ill electorate will be the biggest beneficiaries of e-voting process," he added. Listing further benefits of e-voting, he said it will also help increase voting percentage.

Meghalaya cops return to Indore, visit victim's house in honeymoon murder

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

A week after making a series of arrests in connection with the Raja Raghuvanshi murder case, the special investigation team (SIT) of the Meghalaya Police has returned to Indore again for further probe into the May 23 honeymoon killing. It has been in the city since Tuesday.

The Meghalaya police had arrested four men, including the murder's mastermind Raj Kushwah and his three henchmen, Akash, Anand and Vishal and taken them on transit remand from Indore to Meghalaya on June 10.

The four accused, besides Raja's widow, Sonam Raghuvanshi (identified as the principal conspirator in the case), are currently being grilled by police in Meghalaya.

According to informed sources, the SIT team visited multiple spots in Indore on Tuesday and Wednesday, including a rented flat in Dewas Naka area, where Sonam was in hiding between May 30 and June 7, a restaurant in Super Corridor area where the murder plot was allegedly hatched and the houses of Raja Raghuvanshi and Sonam Raghuvanshi's families.

The cops also visited the offices and godown of Sonam's family business in eastern Indore and gathered key evidence. The team's visit assumes significance after Meghalaya DGP Idashisha Nongrang stated on Monday that the investigators are not treating the love triangle as the sole motive and are examining various other angles.

Meanwhile, informed sources said that Sonam had spoken over 100 times with someone using a mobile phone number registered in the name of Sanjay Verma. These conversations happened 100-120 times between March and April. "The possibility of the number being used by Raj Kushwah to connect with Sonam cannot be ruled out," sources added.

Notably, one of the initial clues that guided the SIT to Sonam and alleged lover Raj Kushwah was their long telephonic conversations, particularly between May 15 and 17.

It remains to be seen whether the investigators zero in on the suspected hawala transactions linked to Sonam's family business and use of 'benami' accounts for key transactions.

Landslide claims two on trek route to Kedarnath

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

TRAGEDY returned to haunt the ongoing Char Dham Yatra, as a major landslide claimed the lives of two palanquin-bearers and severely injured three others near Jangal Chatti on the Gaurikund-Kedarnath route, even as a three-day halt in helicopter services has brought significant surge in traditional transport businesses like palanquins and 'ghori' operations.

Five workers associated with the 'Palki and Dandi-Kandi' services were caught in the sudden calamity, suffering severe injuries. Despite immediate efforts, two of the injured succumbed to their wounds.

The deceased have been identified as 18-year-old Nitin Kumar, and Chandrashekhar, both palanquin-bearers by livelihood and hailing from Doda district of J&K.

12 yrs on, 702 Kedarnath cloudburst victims yet to be identified: Officials

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

TWELVE years after the devastating Kedarnath floods, the identity of many victims still remains shrouded in mystery. A particularly perplexing aspect is the fate of 702 individuals whose DNA samples are in the possession of police, but they are yet to match with samples of their family members.

The wait for thousands of grieving relatives is agonising. This impedes closure to the affected relatives in one of India's worst modern tragedies.

"It's heartbreaking," a senior police official involved in the recovery efforts, told this newspaper. "We have the DNA reports for these 702 individuals, but without a corresponding match from the family samples, their identities remain elusive."

Following the 2013 disaster, police initiated a comprehensive effort to identify the deceased. DNA samples were meticulously collected from 735 bodies, body parts, and skeletal remains recovered from the disaster zone. These were dispatched to a specialised laboratory in Bengaluru for analysis.

Simultaneously, the police appealed for DNA samples from the relatives. The call saw an overwhelming response, with over 6,000 individuals submitting their samples to the lab.

Of the 735 DNA samples of the deceased, only a few were successfully matched. "This highlights the sheer scale and complexity of victim identification in such a devastating event," ADGP Amit Sinha, Director of Forensic Science Laboratory, told this newspaper. "We sent 735 samples of bodies, body parts, and skeletons to the Bengaluru lab, and over 6,000 family members also provided their DNA. Yet, only 33 matches were made."

Iran rejects US call to surrender, warns it against intervention

Fear stalks Tehran as Israel bombardments continue, shelters fill up following Iran's counter

Putin, UAE make mediation pitch

Moscow: The leaders of Russia and the United Arab Emirates on Wednesday warned of "extremely negative consequences" from the ongoing Iran-Israel conflict , as President Vladimir Putin pushed himself as a possible mediator. In a phone call with UAE President Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed, Putin "confirmed Russia's readiness to provide mediation assistance to promote dialogue between the parties," the Kremlin said

Trump tells Putin to sort out Ukraine first

Washington: US President Donald Trump on Wednesday rebuff ed Vladimir Putin's offer to mediate in the Israel-Iran conflict, saying Putin should end his own war in Ukraine first. "He actually offered to help mediate, I said 'do me a favor, mediate your own. Let's mediate Russia first, okay?'" Trump told reporters at the White House. "I said 'Vladimir, let's mediate Russia first, you can worry about this later.'"

Israel: Destroyed Iran's internal security HQ

Jerusalem: Israeli Defence Minister Israel Katz said Wednesday that air force jets had destroyed Iran's "internal security headquarters" after the army announced it was striking military targets in Tehran. "Air Force jets have destroyed internal security headquarters of Iran, the main arm of repression of the Iranian dictator," Katz said, vowing to "strike symbols of governance and hit the Ayatollah regime wherever it may be".

DUBAI

IRAN'S supreme leader on Wednesday rejected US calls for surrender in the face of blistering Israeli strikes for the sixth consecutive day and warned that any military involvement by Americans would cause "irreparable damage" to them.

It was the second public appearance by Ayatollah Ali Khamenei since the Israeli strikes began, and came a day after US President Donald Trump demanded "UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER" in a social media post and warned Khamenei that the U.S. knows where he is but has no plans to kill him, "at least not for now."

Trump initially distanced himself from Israel's surprise attack on Friday that triggered the conflict, but in recent days has hinted at greater American involvement, saying he wants something "much bigger" than a ceasefire. The US has also sent more military aircraft and warships to the region.

Khamenei dismissed the "threatening and absurd statements" by Trump. "Wise individuals who know Iran, its people, and its history never speak to this nation with the language of threats, because the Iranian nation is not one to surrender," he said in the low-resolution video, his voice echoing. "Americans should know that any military involvement by the U.S. will undoubtedly result in irreparable damage to them."

Iran followed a similar sequence in releasing Khamenei's statement before the video was aired, perhaps as a security measure. His location is not known and was impossible to discern from the tight shot that showed only beige curtains, an Iranian flag and a portrait of Grand Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, Khamenei's immediate predecessor who died in 1989.

An Iranian diplomat had earlier Wednesday warned that US intervention would risk an "all-out war." Foreign Ministry spokesman Esmail Baghaei did not elaborate, but thousands of American troops are based in nearby countries within range of Iran's weapons. The U.S. has threatened a massive response to any attack.

The latest Israeli strikes hit one facility used to make uranium centrifuges and another that made missile components, the Israeli military said. It said it had intercepted 10 missiles overnight as Iran's retaliatory barrages diminish. The Israeli military said it also carried out strikes in western Iran, hitting missile storage sites and a loaded missile launcher.

Iran has fired some 400 missiles and hundreds of drones in retaliatory strikes, killing at least 24 people in Israel and wounding hundreds.

The Washington-based group Human Rights Activists (HRA) said it had identified 239 of those killed in Israeli strikes as civilians and 126 as security personnel. Shops have been closed across Tehran, including in its famed Grand Bazaar, as people wait in gas lines and pack roads leading out of the city. AP

Gaza rescuers say 33 killed by Israel at aid site

GAZA CITY

GAZA'S civil defence agency said 33 people were killed by Israeli fire in the Palestinian territory on Wednesday, including 11 who were seeking aid.

The war sparked by Hamas's October 2023 attack on Israel has ravaged the Gaza Strip and resulted in severe shortages of food, fuel and clean water.

Civil defence spokesman Mahmud Bassal told AFP that 11 people were killed and more than 100 wounded "after the occupation forces opened fire and launched several shells... at thousands of citizens" who had gathered to queue for food in central Gaza.

Israel military told AFP that its forces operating in central Gaza identified "a group of suspicious individuals" approaching "in a manner that posed a potential threat to the forces."

It said its troops then fired "warning shots", but that it was "unaware of injuries".

The civil defence agency said another 19 people were killed in three Israeli strikes on Wednesday, which it said targeted houses and a tent for displaced people.

The Israeli military told AFP regarding one of those attacks that its troops were "operating to dismantle Hamas military capabilities". Three more people were killed in an Israeli air strike on a neighbourhood northeast of Gaza City on Wednesday, Bassal said.

After Israel eased its blockade, the US- and Israel-backed Gaza Humanitarian Foundation (GHF) began distributing aid in May, but its operations have been marred by chaotic scenes and deaths. AFP

Bomb blast derails Jaffar Express in Pakistan

ISLAMABAD

A bomb explosion near a railway track derailed six carriages of Jaffar Express in Sindh province of Pakistan on Wednesday.

No casualties were reported in the incident involving the train plying from Peshawar to Quetta, authorities said. However, train operations were suspended on the route.

This is the second time in four months that the Jaffar Express was targetted.

Wednesday's blast occurred near the railway track close to a cattle market in Jacobabad in the Sindh province bordering the volatile Balochistan province.

The explosion caused a three-feet deep and railway track of almost six feet was damaged, according to Dunya TV.

A heavy contingent of police cordoned off the area soon after. Authorities are currently investigating the nature of the blast and an inquiry is underway to determine the cause and nature of the incident.

A senior railway officer told PTI that by 6 pm local time, one coach was re-railed while the work for lifting the remaining five coaches away from the track was under progress.

Officers and senior subordinates are at the site to supervise relief operations, he said, adding, the repair of track, damaged by the blast, may take a lot of time.

By late evening, no group had claimed responsibility for the blast as yet, however, police sources said usually terrorist acts in Sindh province are conducted by Jeay Sindh Qaumi Mahaz or the Balochistan Liberation Army (BLA).

Earlier, Jaffar Express was targeted in March in the Bolan area of Balochistan while going from Quetta to Peshawar.

The Balochistan Liberation Army (BLA) militants ambushed it on March 11, killing 21 passengers and four soldiers before the army eliminated all 33 of them the next day. PTI

Spain PM denies scandal money use

MADRID

SPANISH Prime Minister Pedro Sanchez on Wednesday denied his Socialist party received illegal funding from a corruption scandal involving two former close allies that has rocked his minority coalition government.

A police report released last week implicated Socialist heavyweight Santos Cerdan and former transport minister Jose Luis Abalos in receiving kickbacks in the improper awarding of public contracts.

The subsequent backlash has created a crisis for Sanchez, who came to power in 2018 promising to clean up Spanish politics after the main conservative Popular Party (PP) was convicted in its own graft affair.

"There is no note, no indication that points to the Socialist party in terms of irregular funding," a sombre-faced Sanchez told a raucous session of parliament in reference to the police report.

Since the report, Cerdan has relinquished his powerful post as Socialist organisation secretary and as an MP, while the party definitively expelled Abalos. Sanchez said the party "accepted its responsibility and acted decisively". He said he was "open" to hearing from other parties. AFP

G7 leaders fail to reach ambitious joint agreement

ALBERTA

SIX of the Group of Seven leaders discussed Russia's war in Ukraine and the Israel-Iran conflict but failed to reach major agreements on those and many other top issues — closing a summit that was forced to try and show how the wealthy nations' club might still shape global policy despite the early departure of US President Donald Trump.

Canadian Prime Minister Mark Carney and his counterparts from the UK, France, Germany, Italy and Japan were joined during Tuesday's final sessions by Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy and NATO chief Mark Rutte.

"We need support from allies and I'm here," Zelenskyy said, before adding, "We are ready for the peace negotiations, unconditional ceasefire. I think it's very important. But for this, we need pressure."

The remaining leaders agreed to jointly attempt to combat what they called non-market policies that could jeopardize global access to critical minerals. They also pledged to limit the downsides of artificial intelligence on jobs and the environment, while still embracing the potential of the "technological revolution."

There was consensus on other issues, but though the summit was meant to showcase unity on top global concerns, no joint statement on the conflict in Ukraine was released.

A senior Canadian official who briefed reporters at the summit said the US opposed a joint statement on Ukraine amid its efforts to promote negotiations with Russia.

In Trump's absence, the remaining six leaders held an extensive session on Ukraine. Lacking unanimity, individual leaders also met Zelenskyy to reassure him of their support.

The summit also was largely overshadowed by a showdown over Iran's nuclear program that could escalate. French President Emmanuel Macron warned against the US and other powers pushing for regime change in Iran. "I believe the greatest mistake would be to pursue regime change in Iran through military means. AFP

EU summons Russia envoy over attack on diplomat

BRUSSELS

THE European Union has summoned Russia's envoy to Brussels for an explanation after one of the bloc's officials was attacked in the eastern city of Vladivostok last month, an EU spokesperson said Wednesday.

The diplomat was attacked on May 26. Their name, nationality and medical condition weren't provided. German news outlet Der Spiegel reported that the official was a Romanian woman who had traveled to the city on official business.

Der Spiegel said that the woman was attacked after leaving her hotel for an early morning walk. It said a car pulled up alongside her, and that two men got out. She was threatened, and then beaten up. The men were believed to work for Russian security authorities, the news magazine said, citing EU diplomatic sources.

"We condemn any violence against EU diplomats. They must be able to carry out their duties free from fear and intimidation," EU spokesperson Anitta Hipper said.

"The safety of our staff is paramount, and we will continue to review the protection of our diplomatic staff."

Russia's representative in Brussels was summoned "for clarifications."

No further details were provided. AP

Rape trial of feminist icon Pelicot retold on Vienna stage

VIENNA

A staged reading of selected fragments of the trial that made Frenchwoman Gisele Pelicot, who survived nearly a decade of rapes by dozens of men, a worldwide feminist icon will premiere in Vienna on Wednesday evening.

The staging is the latest project of Vienna Festival director Milo Rau, one of many who followed last year's mass rape trial in the southern French city of Avignon. Unusually for such trials, the hearings were held in open court after Pelicot insisted it be held in public, a decision that meant it received international media coverage and generated fierce debate. Rau delved into the files "in a bid to make the trial public" while detaching it from the courtroom, he told AFP.

EVERY TRUE REVOLUTION
IS A … OVE

Servane Dècle (L), dramaturge, and Milo Rau, director of the Vienna Festival

The resulting performance is in a sense "an extension of the actions" of Gisele Pelicot, who at a key moment had refused to allow her rapists to be tried behind closed doors, he added.

In "The Pelicot Trial", dozens of actors read out statements made in court, but also texts and material that illustrate the debates the case has generated.

Lawyers for the Pelicot family cooperated with the production by supplying documents from the case, but French playwright Servane Decle, 28, said research for the project was still a difficult task. "It was a bit of a challenge to reconstruct the words that were spoken in court," said Decle, who researched news reports for her script. AFP

Air India to cut int'l services by 15% on widebody aircraft

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AIR INDIA on Wednesday said it has decided to reduce its international services on widebody aircraft by 15% for the next few weeks. The reduction will be implemented between now and 20 June and will continue thereafter until at least mid-July.

The Tata Group-owned airline's action comes a week after an Air India Boeing 787 Dreamliner (flight number AI171) bound for London, carrying 242 passengers and crew, crashed shortly after takeoff from Ahmedabad Airport on Thursday. Only one person survived the crash.

Air India said that due to the geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, night curfew in the airspaces of many countries in Europe and East Asia, the ongoing enhanced safety inspections, and also the necessary cautious approach being taken by the engineering staff and Air India pilots, there have been certain disruptions in their international operations over the last 6 days leading to a total of 83 cancellations.

"Given the compounding circumstances that Air India is facing, to ensure stability of our operations, better efficiency and to minimise inconvenience to passengers, Air India has decided to reduce its international services on widebody aircraft by 15% for the next few weeks. The cuts will be implemented between now and 20 June and will continue thereafter until at least mid-July. This effectively adds to our reserve aircraft availability to take care of any unplanned disruptions," noted the airline.

It added, "Air India apologises to the passengers affected due to these curtailments, and will inform them in advance and make its best efforts to accommodate them on alternate flights. Passengers will also be offered a choice to reschedule their travel without any cost or to be given full refund, as per their choice. The revised schedule of our international services effective from 20 June, 2025 will be shared shortly."

'No red flags with Boeing Dreamliner before crash'

NEW DELHI: Tata Sons and Air India Chairman N Chandrasekaran said on Wednesday there were no red flags with Boeing 787 Dreamliner aircraft before tragic Air India plane crash that claimed 270 lives, including 241 passengers and crew members. The remark comes as investigators are trying to ascertain cause of crash. "There were no red flags or maintenance issues," the chairman was quoted as saying in an interview with Times Now. ENS

IPOs: Start-up founders get relief on Esops

Sebi has created special category for foreign funds to invest in govt securities, aligns KYC norms with that of RBI's

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

IN a move that will offer a major relief to the start-ups founders planning public listing, capital market regulator Sebi has allowed them to hold on to their employees stock ownership plan (Esops) provided they were issued one year before the public issue filing.

The regulator has also created a special category for foreign funds to invest in government securities called GS-FPIs and aligned their KYC norms with that of the RBI. Announcing these decisions after a board meeting here this evening, which cleared as many as 19 proposals/amendments to the existing sebi norms on Wednesday, Sebi chairman Tuhin Kanta Pandey said all the 19 decisions have been taken after detailed consultation with the industry and will go a long way to further relax ease of doing business.

"The proposal approved by the Sebi board shall facilitate founders who received ESOP benefits at least one year prior to filing of IPO papers with the Sebi, to continue holding, and/or exercising such benefits even after being specified as promoter and the company becoming a listed entity," the chairman said the decisions are part of an objective of enhancing the ease of business.

The start-up ecosystem has been seeking amendment to the Esop rules as many founders are listed as promoters for an IPO, based on their shareholding including the options which were vested as public-issue norms require that. This decision is expected to convince them to come to public markets, said Pandey, adding that an industry proposal for allowing fresh Esops benefits to be availed by founders after listing was not approved by the board.

Currently, founders have to be classified as promoters before filing for an IPO, but the hindrance is that the rule prohibits issuance of Esops to them as promoter. The watchdog said a person who ceased to be an employee after having been identified as a promoter be allowed to continue to hold their Esops, provided those or other benefits were issued one year before the IPO.

In another decision that will help secure stable long-term foreign fund inflows into India via government bonds. The Sebi has approved easier norms for FPIs to invest in government bonds.

A key relaxation is Sebi will not demand more than what the RBI seeks from them when it comes to KYC norms. "We will not ask anything beyond what the RBI norms on KYC front," whole-time member Anantha Narayan told reporters. In relief to the government, as well as to the harried investors of those government companies, which have very low public float, the sebi has allowed their voluntary delisting provided those companies are not in banking and other financial sector space. Pandey said only five such central PSUs are eligible for voluntary delisting under the new norms. These companies are Kochi-based fertiliser maker FACT, defunct watch maker HMT, KIOCL, State Trading Corporation and ITI. Though there are four staterun banks with over 90 performers government shareholding and the largest financial entity that LIC is with just 3% public float against the mandated 25% they are not eligible for the new relaxation, Pandey added.

Vi set to enter satcom space ahead of Starlink entry

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

EVEN as Starlink prepares to start satellite communication services in India, incumbent service providers are tightening their belt to compete with the Elon Musk-led company.

While Airtel and Reliance Jio are already offering satellite communication services, Vodafone Idea (Vi) on Wednesday announced entry into the segment by forging a partnership with US-based satellite communications company AST SpaceMobile to extend mobile connectivity to unconnected and underserved regions in the country. AST SpaceMobile offers space-based cellular technology that enables direct connectivity to standard smartphones — without the need for any specialised hardware, software, or updates. Under the partnership, AST SpaceMobile will be responsible for developing, manufacturing, and managing the satellite constellation, while Vi will oversee terrestrial network integration, spectrum operations, and market access. The new space-based mobile broadband ecosystem is designed to complement Vi's terrestrial telecom services by delivering voice, video, internet access, and data streaming capabilities in areas where traditional mobile infrastructure is difficult to deploy.

While Jio has partnered with SES and Airtel with Eutelsat's OneWeb, Vi's collaboration with AST SpaceMobile stands out by providing direct satellite connectivity to standard smartphones — such as iPhones and Samsung Galaxy devices—without the need for satellite phones, dishes, or terminals.

"As satellite-based mobile access becomes a reality in India, we are looking forward to ushering in a new era of seamless and resilient connectivity" said Avneesh Khosla, chief marketing officer, Vi. The telco in a statement said India, with over 1.1 billion mobile subscribers, remains one of the world's largest and most dynamic telecom markets. While 4G coverage is widespread and 5G is emerging, satellite communication can fill critical coverage gaps, mainly in geographically challenging regions. "India, with its vast and dynamic telecom market, is the ideal place to demonstrate how our space-based cellular broadband can seamlessly complement terrestrial networks" said Chris Ivory, chief commercial officer, AST SpaceMobile.

'Developed world nowhere close to India in fintech'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PRAISING India's Fintech revolution, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday said even advanced countries are nowhere close to the kind of progress India is witnessing. "This is something very unique to Indian FinTech. Several countries are now eager to engage with us, often requesting deeper interactions," she said here addressing the Digital Payments Award ceremony here on Monday.

The speed of innovation in India is something that many other countries can only dream of, she said, underlining the immense progress that India has made. She attributed India's fintech success to the Startup India movement, which she says has now expanded far beyond a single sector. "We're already reaping the benefits of innovations across agriculture, space, and beyond. India's profile has become both versatile and admirable," she said.

According to her, excellence in digital payments has benefited not only banks and innovators but citizens at large. "This, in turn, has enhanced financial inclusion—critical for a country where a large section of the population still awaits access," she added. To support her statement, she cited the World Bank, which has said India achieved 80% financial inclusion in just six years through digital public infrastructure—a level that would have otherwise taken 50 years. India now accounts for 48.5% of all real-time digital transactions globally. Highlighting the success of direct-to-benefit transfer, the FM said the government has transferred ₹44 lakh crore to beneficiaries since 2014, with ₹3.48 lakh crore saved by preventing leakages.

Exchanges say Stablecoin Bill to pave way for crypto adoption

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE US Senate has passed the GENIUS Act, which aims to regulate stablecoins, and crypto exchanges call this bill a milestone as such regulatory clarity contributes to a shifting global crypto industry.

The stablecoin (a type of crypto) bill will help provide a faster way to process transactions and stablecoins might turn into a mainstream form of payment. The passage of the Act marks clear signal from the US government that digital asset innovation and responsible regulation can go hand in hand. The Act lays foundation for trust, transparency, and growth, taking crypto mainstream, said Edul Patel, CEO of Mudrex.

"For a growing market like India, it presents an opportunity to accelerate work on regulatory guidelines to expand stablecoins payments market," he added. Sumit Gupta, co-founder of CoinDCX, said by creating a framework for stablecoins, including issuer licensing, 1:1 fiat reserves, and shared federal-state oversight, the US has signalled intent to lead in responsible digital innovation. "This move sets a global precedent. As India continues to grow as a Web3 innovator, the Act offers a timely reference point. It presents an opportunity for Indian policymakers to reflect on how global regulatory approaches are evolving and to thoughtfully consider the associated risks, opportunities, and long-term implications," he said.

Anil Ambani's Reliance Aerostructure, Dassault to make Falcon biz jets in India

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

ANIL AMBANI-led Reliance Infrastructure arm Reliance Aerostructure Limited (RAL) and French aerospace giant Dassault Aviation have signed an agreement to manufacture Falcon 2000 business executive jets in India for the global markets. This will be the first time Dassault will manufacture Falcon 2000 jets outside of France.

Dassault Reliance Aerospace (DRAL), a JV set up by the two companies in 2017, will become the Center of Excellence (CoE) for Falcon series, including Falcon 6X and Falcon 8X assembly programs for Dassault Aviation, the first such CoE outside France. The state-of-the-art, final assembly line for Falcon 2000 jets will be established in Nagpur (Maharashtra), as per the agreement announced on Wednesday at Paris Air Show.

Eric Trappier, chairman and CEO, Dassault Aviation said the agreement marks the ramp-up of DRAL, in line with the strategic vision shared with our partner Reliance, which led to its creation in 2017 and is a testament to our unwavering belief in our future in India and serving India."

Dassault will transfer assembly of the front section of Falcon 8X and Falcon 6X, in addition to wings and fuselage of Falcon 2000 to DRAL. The transfer of assembly operations combined with major facility upgrades, will pave the way for the first flight of Falcon 2000 'Made in India' from Indian soil by 2028, two companies stated in a joint statement. Since delivering its first Falcon 2000 front section in 2019, DRAL has assembled over 100 major subsections for the Falcon 2000.

Anil Ambani, founder chairman, Reliance Group, said "Our partnership with Dassault Aviation represents a landmark in the Group's journey, as we work together to position India as a hub in the global aerospace value chain…The 'Made in India' Falcon 2000 will stand as a proud symbol of the nation's technological prowess and manufacturing excellence".

Household gold holdings' value rises to 56% of GDP

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE value of gold the Indian households are sitting on is as much as 56% of the nominal GDP in FY26 and is also bigger than the bank credit, which is only 55% of the economy, according to a foreign brokerage.

The brokerage forecasted a further rally in gold, which is already quoting near record highs. The 25,000 tone of gold holding with the Indian households is the world's largest and represents 14% of the global gold stock and at current prices is worth $2.4 trillion, Tanvee Gupta Jain, chief economist at UBS Securities India, said in a note.

She also said their house view on gold price is that the yellow metal will again touch $3500 per ounce in FY26. On April 22, the price had crossed this mark by a notch at $3501 for an ounce/28.8 grams of gold.

"We believe the case for gold has become more compelling in an environment of escalating tariff uncertainty, weak growth, high inflation and lingering geopolitical risks. As most of domestic gold demand is met by imports (87%), higher global gold prices (although we expect softer gold volume demand) imply that our net gold imports could remain high at $55-60 billion or 1.2% of GDP) in FY26. However, we expect current account deficit to remain manageable on additional buffers created after the pandemic in the form of services trade surplus and remittance flows" she said.

Crude oil surges to $76/bl amid Israel, Iran tensions

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

CRUDE oil prices are rising, with Brent crude surging to $76 per barrel, its highest level since September 2023. The surge is attributed to intensifying conflict between Israel and Iran, disrupting shipping in the Strait of Hormuz and raising fears of US involvement.

As per a report, a few tankers caught fire near the Strait, later confirmed to be result of a collision between two vessels.

Brent Crude was trading at $76.74/barrel, while West Texas Intermediate was at $75.28 per barrel at 7:00 pm IST. Iran has threatened to close the Strait if attacked. Even a temporary closure would have profound implications for global oil and gas markets. The Strait serves as exit route from Persian Gulf for 25% of world's oil supply, including exports from Saudi Arabia, the UAE, Kuwait, Qatar, Iraq, and Iran, as well as majority of the world's spare production capacity.

The International Energy Agency (IEA) reported Iranian oil flows remain unaffected so far. However, growing concerns over regional disruptions to oil traffic via the Strait have driven prices higher. As per the IEA, Iran currently produces 4.8 million barrels per day (mb/d) of crude oil, condensates, and natural gas liquids (NGLs), with exports averaging 2.6 mb/d. Despite intensified US sanctions on buyers of Iranian oil, exports of crude and condensates have remained steady at 1.7 mb/d this year, with majority going to China. The IEA reported that Iran has partially suspended operations at South Pars gas field—world's largest—after a fire caused by an Israeli airstrike.

However, BCCI might appeal in supreme court.

India grouped with Pakistan, scheduled to play on June 14, 2026

GOMESH S @Chennai

DAYS after the 2025 Women's ODI World Cup schedule was announced, India and Pakistan are slotted in the same group for the 2026 Women's T20 World Cup (England) as the fixtures were released on Wednesday. In the ODI World Cup as well, India are scheduled to play Pakistan on October 5 at a neutral venue (Colombo).

These announcements comes about a month and a half after the cross border tensions between India and Pakistan. The two countries have not played bilateral cricket since 2013 and only play each other in multi-team tournament. Whether it is Asia Cup or ICC events, they have been grouped together since 2014 as India-Pakistan is perhaps the most-anticipated and watched contest. However, following the terror attack in Pahalgam on April 22, tensions rose between the two countries which led to escalations along the border. This led to speculations over whether India would play Pakistan in multi-tournament events. There have been calls of boycotts as well with some former players supporting it.

Though the ODI World Cup will be played in the round robin format which means every team plays each other at least once, the format of the Women's T20 World Cup is different. The teams are divided into two groups.

As per the existing agreement, Pakistan will not travel to India and will play all their games in Sri Lanka during the ODI World Cup. The two countries came to the understanding ahead of the 2025 Champions Trophy that neither team will travel to the other for any event and will play at a neutral venue. In accordance with that India played all their games in Dubai during the Champions Trophy hosted by Pakistan.

Now, it remains to be seen whether the agreement continues. As things stand, apart from the two women's tournaments, there is a men's Asia Cup as well as men's T20 World Cup to be played in the next six months. Even though the ICC released the schedules for the games between India and Pakistan in both women's events, it needs be seen how the games go ahead. The BCCI is yet to say anything concrete as of now. With three months to go for the women's ODI World Cup, hosted by India, there will be more clarity in the days and weeks to come.

Earlier in May, India men's team head coach Gautam Gambhir, while speaking at an event in New Delhi had said that in his personal opinion India should not play Pakistan. "Till all this [terrorism] doesn't stop, there should not be anything between India and Pakistan. Ultimately, this is the government's decision whether we play them or not. I have said this before also, no cricket match or Bollywood or any other interaction is more important than the life of Indian soldiers and Indian citizens...," Gambhir had said at an ABP event.

Shubman, the new No 4 for India

In a legacy role, opportunity for the Test captain to follow footsteps of greats in format

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

THE No. 4 position in Test cricket is the format's holy grail. Sure, there were a few great pre-War No. 4s (Denis Compton and Wally Hammond) but the idea of a No. 4 being one of the side's best bats was a more modern phenomenon with its roots around the late 1980s.

Sachin Tendulkar is of course the gold standard. He scored 13,492 runs in that position, almost 4000 clear of Mahela Jayawardene another giant who had made the No. 4 his postcode for 15 years.

Out of the top 13 run-scorers in the format's history, seven have had an extended run in that position.

From an Indian perspective, the No. 4 has played a big role in multiple ways. Batsmanship, leadership, charismatic figures, the biggest egos in the room as well as tasked with the role of selling all kinds of consumer goods to the hoi polloi. Virat Kohli, Sachin Tendulkar, Gundappa Viswanath, Dilip Vengsarkar... India's batting royalty have all featured in this position. In fact, in India's maiden Test back in 1932, the captain was somebody who came out to bat at No. 4. CK Nayudu, an Indian cricketing aristocrat who wore several hats. This crash course in the history of the No. 4 is a roundabout way of saying why Shubman Gill is the next cab of the No. 4 rank. "I think there's still a discussion going on for No. 3," vice-captain Rishabh Pant said in a press conference two days before the beginning of the five-match Test series against England on Friday. "But No. 4 and No. 5 are fixed. Shubman is going to bat at No. 4, and I'm going to stay at No. 5 as of now."

OVERALL LEADING RUN-SCORERS AT NO. 4 (FROM JAN 1, 1990)

Names	Innings	Runs	Average
Sachin Tendulkar	275	13,492	54.4
Mahela Jayawardene	195	9,509	52.24
Jacques Kallis	170	9,033	61.86
Brian Lara	148	7,535	51.25
Ross Taylor	174	7,087	47.24

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE

NO. 4

– OUT OF THE 13 HIGHEST RUN-GETTERS IN TESTS, SEVEN HAVE PREDOMINANTLY BATTED IN THE NO. 4 POSITION

TOP TWO ACTIVE CRICKETERS WITH MOST RUNS IN TESTS

Names	Innings	Runs	Average
Joe Root	279	13,006	50.8
Steve Smith	208	10,350	53.59

Both Root and Smith bat No. 4 for England and Australia, respectively

There is one big difference, though, between Shubman and almost everybody who made the No. 4 their own. Most of the others weren't in leadership roles when they assumed the No. 4. They were all fairly early into their careers. They didn't have the pressure of expectation on their shoulders when they were asked to walk out at No. 4.

Tendulkar had Vengsarkar, Mohammad Azharuddin and Kapil Dev behind him in the change room. Brian Lara was sandwiched by captain Richie Richardson at one drop and Carl Hooper at No. 6. Likewise for Jayawardene, Mark Waugh and Root among other batters who became stalwarts in that role... they all had sufficient cushioning. They were relatively early in their Test careers and even if they were given a big responsibility, they had a soft landing. The 25-year-old won't be accorded that because he's not only the leader of this batting unit but he has also the small 'c' next to him.

From a historical perspective, he will be at home in the No. 4 spot for India. It's a natural spot for the heir to the throne, the chosen one — one part intuition, one part marketing (identifying the 'next big thing' is a cottage industry among most sports writers) both from within and outside the establishment. Before the Champions Trophy final for example, Gill played a prominent role in an official BCCI video. Even back then, it was assumed that the red-ball captaincy would be his as long as he wanted it. With Kohli's retirement, he has not only got the captaincy but also the No. 4. For so long under Kohli's shadow, this will be Gill's first time in that role.

This is another departure from most No. 4s. They learnt about the grammar of that spot away from the spotlight of leadership. Gill would have to pick up the nuances of the position while worrying about captaincy as well.

The Fazilka-born Gill can see this in two ways. One, he may allow the challenge to eat him. But the ones who have spoken about Gill maintain he's not that kind of a personality. The other way is this challenge gives him an opportunity to take a fresh guard in a format where his batting is still a work in progress. There are weaknesses in his game but he has the capacity to lift the floor as well as the ceiling by a couple of metres. It's why the BCCI have made an educated gamble in placing all their eggs in the Gill basket. More than a decade ago, another cricket board made a similar gamble. Similar to Gill, this player was fairly deep into his Test career (24 matches; average of over 45) when he was handed the dual role of No. 4 as well as captaincy. And you will have to say it worked out well for Steve Smith.

ENGLISH TEST

England name XI for Leeds Test

LONDON: Chris Woakes returns to the side for the first time since December while seamer Brydon Carse will play his first Test on home soil as England announced their playing XI for the first Test against India to be played in Headingley from Friday. Ollie Pope will bat at No 3 with Jamie Smith will be the designated keeper. Zak Crawley and Ben Duckett, the duo who had a reasonably good series when they toured India last year, will continue to perform the opening duties. Playing XI: Crawley, Duckett, Pope, Root, Brook, Stokes (C), Smith (WK), Woakes, Carse, Tongue, Bashir

Pant reveals his shift in stance

HEADINGLEY: India vice-captain Rishabh Pant on Wednesday said that he has effected a slight change to his stance from open in white ball formats to more side on in Test cricket to meet the demands of the swing-friendly England conditions. "I think mostly it's (changes) mental, a little bit of technical too. It is like in one-day and T20s you have to open up your stance because of the kind of shots you want to play,' Pant said in a press conference here. "At the same time coming to England you got to play a little side-on and that really helps. That's the basic technical thing which I have shifted, other than that it's just the mindset thing," he added.

'Arshdeep should be given a chance'

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

THE last time India won a Test series in England, left-arm quick RP Singh played a key role in the team's triumph. The series win in 2007 came after 21 years. It's been 18 years since then and India had travelled to English shores four times (precisely five to play a remaining Test in the five-match series in 2022) but could not repeat the feat. The best result for them came during the last tour where they drew the Test series 2-2.

With yet another five-match Test series between India and England commencing in Leeds on Friday, focus will be on Shubman Gill and Co and whether they can match the standards set by Rahul Dravid and his team. Singh, the Uttar Pradesh pacer, though said he will be happy if India manage to draw the series but also pinned a lot of hopes on the youngsters, who can make their Test debut during the series. One among them is Punjab speedster Arshdeep Singh. "India should bank on experience which means they should go with players who have performed in four-day or five-day matches," Singh told this daily in an interaction facilitated by Sony Sports Network, the official broadcaster.

He, however, said Arshdeep should be given a chance given his recent form. "I don't want to judge bowlers by their form in the IPL but for them one advantage is that the right areas remain the same in all the three formats and only approach changes. Jasprit Bumrah will be the leader of the pack attack and with him Mohammed Siraj is there. Apart from the duo, Arshdeep should be given an opportunity. Being a left-arm pacer, he can be handy in English conditions. I watched him bowling in a four-day match last year in Punjab. He though didn't pick a lot of wickets but had shown he has the skills needed at this level. Besides, he has that firepower as even in his third spell his back was bending and the ball was flying."

Singh said a seaming all-rounder can be a good option in England and preferred Nitish Kumar Reddy to join Ravindra Jadeja for the two slots. "Reddy can be there apart from Jadeja as all-rounders. A seam bowling all-rounder is always good in those conditions. If he can hit the right areas then he can help the team rotate the bowlers and even scalp wickets."

RP Singh felt Arshdeep Singh (in pic) has all the tools to thrive in England

Like Arshdeep, Singh also backed young Tamil Nadu batter B Sai Sudharsan and wanted him in the team. "It all depends on the combination the team management wants but Sudharsan being a lefty should be in the playing XI. His recent form is great and he has impressed everybody with his impactful performances. (Abhimanyu) Easwaran has also been performing consistently in domestic cricket and he should be rewarded for the same. In my opinion Sudharsan should be in the team given his current form and approach. He is also looking positive."

Singh, who has played 14 Tests for India, asserted the batters have to take responsibility if the team wants to win in England. "They have a pretty young side with only a couple of senior players like Bumrah and KL Rahul. To win a series in England, we need a consistent batting line-up with a lot of experience. It's not easy to bat in England as the ball moves a lot. Duke balls are used and they behave differently. Gill and Co need to bat deep and for that they have (Rishabh) Pant at No 5. His Test credentials are good but it is not going to be easy. The last time we won a Test series in England in 2007, we had legendary batters who batted really well. Apart from them, bowlers hit the right areas and bowled according to the plans."

The pacer also spoke on driest springs England are experiencing in over 125 years and said spinners will come into play because of that.

Ball-tampering complaint against Ashwin withdrawn

AGENCIES @Chennai

THE Tamil Nadu Cricket Association on Wednesday said the Siechem Madurai Panthers have withdrawn the ball-tampering allegations levelled against R Ashwin-led Dindigul Dragons. The Panthers had accused Dragons of tampering with the ball by using towels 'treated with chemicals' during a Tamil Nadu Premier League (TNPL) match on June 14 at Salem.

"Following due consideration, the management and coaching staff of SMP have decided to withdraw the complaint in the larger interest of the sport and the smooth conduct of the tournament," said Prasanna Kannan, the TNPL CEO. "They have further clarified that the intention behind the complaint was not to bring disrepute to Mr. R. Ashwin, captain of the Dindigul Dragons, the Dindigul Dragons team, the match officials, the TNPL, or the TNCA," he added.

Kannan said since the Panthers have decided to withdraw their complaint there would not be any follow-up action on the matter. "In light of this withdrawal, the matter is deemed closed and no further action shall be pursued," he said.

"In accordance with the Operational Rules of the Tamil Nadu Premier League, TNCA reviewed the matter and communicated the procedural steps required for initiating a formal enquiry."

Ramos on scoresheet as Monterrey hold Inter

AGENCIES @Pasadena (US)

THE 39-year-old Spanish great Sergio Ramos scored as Monterrey held Inter Milan 1-1 in a hard-fought FIFA Club World Cup Group E opener in Pasadena on Tuesday.

Argentine striker Lautaro Martinez scored a well-worked equaliser to cancel out Ramos's opener for the Mexican side in front of 40,311 fans at the Rose Bowl. Inter, playing their first game since being thrashed 5-0 by Paris Saint-Germain in the Champions League final, were left ruing their failure to turn their dominance of possession and territory into goals.

But the draw was a boost for Ramos and Monterrey, who face Argentina's River Plate in their next game on Saturday.

"When you don't get all three points you're never entirely happy," Ramos, the former Spain and Real Madrid defender, said. "But one point is better than no point. "They were a tough opponent and have just played in the final of the Champions League. We were a little bit nervous but in the second half we stayed organised and kept the ball better. "We need to think about the next game."

Happy start for Man City

The afternoon was slightly marred for City as Rico Lewis was sent off for a dangerous tackle late on, but Pep Guardiola will be happy with the team's performance.

Mumbai's 7.5km sea-facing promenade nears completion, set to open in July

This promenade marks one of the largest urban coastal interventions in India and is sure to become a tourist destination for visitors to the city

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

A brand-new, 7.5-kilometre sea-facing promenade along the city's Coastal Road is set to open in early July, ushering in a new era of coastal recreation. Stretching from Priyadarshini Park at Breach Candy to the Worli end of the Bandra-Worli Sea Link, this wide, 20-metre walkway will feature cycling lanes, jogging tracks, benches and generous green zones styled on global urban waterfronts—including a nod to Hong Kong's iconic promenades.

Designed by AECOM, the corridor is part of Mumbai's ambitious Coastal Road Project — a reclamation of 111 hectares of the Arabian Sea, transforming 70 hectares into public open space. Around 70 percent of the area will be landscaped with palms, indigenous shrubs and nine parks, while the remaining 30 percent comprises paved pathways, fitness zones and sit-out areas.

Accessibility has been treated with equal priority: 20 pedestrian underpasses — spaced every 400 metres — ensure seamless entry, while a vehicular underpass at Worli, already operational since April, eases traffic flow .

The Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) confirms the promenade will operate 24 hours a day, even as adjacent parks adhere to 8 am–8 pm timings. Some sections have already been open since March — and while Mumbai's weekend strollers have embraced them, safety concerns remain, with authorities cautioning against halting vehicles on the high-speed road.

This promenade marks one of the largest urban coastal interventions in India and is expected to redefine waterfront leisure, providing residents and visitors with unbroken sea views, fitness paths, butterfly gardens, amphitheatres, yoga and open-air gym zones — pioneering a verdant wave of public infrastructure in the city. As Mumbai readies itself for a monsoon season unlike any other, the new promenade promises to shape coastal life for decades to come — melding mobility, leisure and scenic splendour in equal measure.

Here is a list of 16 destinations Jammu & Kashmir has reopened after the deadly terrorist attack to boost tourism

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

IN a determined step towards restoring tourism, 16 picturesque destinations across Jammu & Kashmir will reopen on June 17, two months after the chilling terror attack in Pahalgam's Baisaran Valley on April 22 2025, which claimed 26 lives. The phased revival, announced by lieutenant governor Manoj Sinha on June 14, includes iconic locales such as Betaab Valley, Verinag and Kokernag gardens, Achabal, Badamwari Park, Duck Park and Taqdeer Park in Srinagar, alongside eight key spots in Jammu like Sarthal, Jai Valley, Pancheri and the serene Devipindi waterfall.

Security has been ramped up in coordination with regional intelligence agencies, police and the administration. Officials emphasise that this cautious reopening is backed by thorough risk assessments and new measures — including no-fly zones around pilgrimage routes — are in place as the Amarnath Yatra approaches in early July.

Tourism operators in Srinagar, Pahalgam and beyond are breathing a tentative sigh of relief as the first wave of cautious visitors returns. Srinagar's Dal Lake floats appear once more, and local vendors and shikara drivers are hoping this signals the revival of lifelines devastated by the attack and subsequent decline in footfall. The bold message: Kashmir remains open for serene beauty, cultural warmth and resilient hearts.

Photographer Cop Shiva's new exhibit recreates childhood memories of dressing up as mythological characters with his mother

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

SUGRIVA drives a scooter with Hanuman riding pillion, almost falling off, as rishis look on impassively; a grey-haired, saree-clad woman knocks out a fit boxer in a vibrant forest with only a tiger and a deer for an audience, and two characters who look like they've stepped out of an old mythological film, bedecked in jewellery, take a selfie as tourists in a city. These playful self-portraits of cop-turned-photographer BS Shivaraju, known as Cop Shiva, and his mother Gowramma, are one of 133 on display at Gallery Sumukha as part of the artist's newest exhibition 'No Longer a Memory' curated by Joshua Muyiwa. Photos from this ongoing project have previously won the public vote prize at the 23rd Asian Art Prize ceremony in 2023.

This series of photographs, seven years in the making, was born from Shiva's desire for something most take for granted, but he never had because of the difficult financial circumstances he grew up in – family photographs. "In recent years, whenever I visited friends' houses, they would show me photographs from family albums. People have many fond memories as photographs but my mother and I didn't have a single photograph together. So I thought, since I'm now an artist and photographer, let's create work with my memories," explains Shiva who, while working as a policeman, honed his skills by learning from artists at 1ShanthiRoad gallery, eventually quitting his job to become a full-time photographer.

Among his childhood memories, the ones that stood out most to Shiva were moments of play with his mother – dressing up and enacting mythological characters – inspired by Shiva's grandfather, who was a theatre artiste in their village. "He used to play small roles in mythological plays and dramas happening throughout the night and he would take me along to watch him – these things were visually in my head. In the morning, I'd wake up and with all the things I saw, play with my mom. I think we have both got my grandfather's blood in us," he laughs.

With this exhibit, these moments of childhood whimsy are 'no longer a memory', transporting the viewer into studio-style photographs that hold the memories of decades past with the brightly painted gallery walls and the colourful retro backgrounds on display, aiding in this immersion. "I wanted to make it so that when you enter, you go back to your memory to the studio with your parents and grandparents, in the old photograph in your home," explains Shiva, adding, "With my generation, all family photos used to be in the studio and I'm a huge fan of this old Indian studio photography. So I used lots of old studio backdrops, and mythological theatre backdrops, commissioned some, and also used some beautiful contemporary fabrics. I travelled looking around some old studios in northern Karnataka for these because they are all gradually vanishing."

While Cop Shiva's work has always focussed on unique people embodying characters, perhaps influenced by his early fascination with the theatrical, with previous projects focusing on a Gandhi impersonator and another who dresses up as Tamil actor MG Ramachandran; his experimentation with self-portraiture is a departure from this. He says, "There are so many things I learned with these two projects and that was like a workshop for me – I got the confidence to place myself as my subject."

And what better way to do it than with his mom, who, Shiva has been hearing from visitors is 'more confident and photogenic' than him. "She, and that generation of women, had not gotten the opportunity to explore and play – after 60 years, she got to explore her acting skill. She loved to pose, and I think she is better than me in all the pictures," he laughs.

(No Longer A Memory is open to visitors at Gallery Sumukha, Wilson Garden, until June 28)

Standup comedian Gurleen Pannu, all set to perform in the city, talks about the theme of her show and the evolved B'luru audience

ANJALI RAM

IT isn't a 'joke' when they say 'laughter is the best medicine'; it is indeed everyone's favourite way to keep stress at bay. And standup comedy is a dose many people prefer when they want to unwind and laugh out loud. Standup comedian Gurleen Pannu is one such dose of humour set to take the stage in the city, promising a night of relatable jokes. With her upcoming show 'Pannu Yaar' , the 27-year-old is all set to entertain the audience with her take on young adulthood.

The title of her solo is based on her first solo experience as a standup comedian – a metaphor for her journey. "I wanted to do something funny, relatable and original. But I did not have an umbrella or a single story that I wanted to talk about for hours. So, I just compiled all the bits that I had and this is a show of different bits together," she shares.

Pannu's journey into standup comedy began accidentally – as a hobby eventually growing into a full-time career. "It was mostly because I used to do theatre in college. I just started doing different stuff like making comedy sketches on YouTube. Then, I started writing those sketches, and editing them as well. Later, when the lockdown happened. I had nowhere to go, that's why I started doing online mics," she recalls.

Speaking about her show, Pannu explains, "It is majorly about my stepping into adulthood, about people in their early and late 20s, how they suddenly step into a new world. Besides that, I have included some observational bits as well."

Throughout this journey, Pannu's approach to engaging with the audience has been simple. "Crowd work is spontaneous and improvised. If something happens on the show, if I talk to someone and whatever they say, I just have to give a comeback or say a funny thing or have an interaction with them," she says.

Having performed and visited the city on several occasions, she also appreciates the city's audience, who, according to her, is well-versed in stand-up comedy. "I really like Bengaluru," she says, adding, "People here watch a lot of standup and are well aware of what the art form is and what the punchline is. They listen patiently and get the punchline. This understanding is way more in Bengaluru than in any other city." Despite the occasional challenges or blocks that she faces, Pannu gets candid about what motivates her in her journey. "What keeps me going is basically a love for the stage and the high I get when I perform or crack a joke."

As she prepares for her upcoming show, Pannu also gives a piece of advice to beginners in standup. "Just keep writing and getting on stage. Do as much stage time as you can, and keep building your material," she signs off.

(Catch Gurleen Pannu live at Phoenix Mall of Asia on June 21 at 7.30pm. Tickets are available on bookmyshow.com, starting at ₹799)

From crafting Met Gala looks to working with B'luru girl Deepika Padukone, celebrity hair stylist Yianni Tsapatori shares his journey

SHREYA VERONICA

MANY of us take inspiration when styling our hair, making sure each hairstyle complements our outfit. When it comes to advice, who better to turn to than an expert who has worked with top celebrities across the country? CE caught up with Yianni Tsapatori, celebrity hair stylist, who shared insights on working with celebs, styling iconic red carpet looks, and some must-know hair care tips.

Excerpts

You recently styled Isha Ambani's Met Gala look. Tell us more about it.

Yes! I've worked with almost every celebrity out there, and been in India for nearly eight years now. I've been styling the Ambani family for about 4-5 years. Isha has attended the Met Gala for the past three years, and if you've followed her style since her wedding, you'll know she's always been open to experimenting. The gala is a time to go all out, to be bold, creative, and to have fun. For her hair, we wanted a striking contrast, structured and clean from the front, and dramatic at the back with a braid and a ponytail that looked like an explosion. We added a hint of Indian heritage with the braid but ensured the overall look was very international. We also used accessories to enhance the styling.

You've styled Deepika Padukone, Kareena Kapoor Khan, and others. What has that experience been like?

Every celebrity I've worked with has been fun to be around. Spending time with them regularly, especially on sets, helps build a good rapport. Working in India has been a great learning experience because the workflow and creative process here are quite different. Among those I've styled, I truly admire Deepika, Kareena, and Anushka Sharma – not just for their beauty, but for their sense of humour. They make the whole process enjoyable.

Who's the most fun to work with?

That's a tough one, I can't pick just one! Everyone brings something unique. I always try to find something enjoyable in every project because, let's be honest, no one wants to go to work and not have a good time. I've been lucky that all the celebrities I've worked with have given me the creative freedom to try new things. That makes my job even more exciting.

What's one of your favourite celebrity looks?

It's hard to choose one, but Deepika's look for the Oscars definitely stands out, it's one of my personal favourites. Another is Isha Ambani's Met Gala look this year. Each look has a story behind it. One day, I think I should write a book about all the behind-the-scenes moments that shaped these styles!

Can you share essential tips for a good hair care routine?

Hydration is key, drink plenty of water, and keep your hair hydrated with masks. You can try home remedies, but only if they suit your hair. Another great tip is to use two different shampoos that work for your hair and alternate them every 3-4 months. This prevents your hair from becoming too used to one product and helps it stay responsive. Find one or two hairstyles that suit you and are easy to manage. Especially in summer or during the monsoon, a messy bun is perfect – chic, effortless, and practical. It doesn't take much time and looks good.

How can I adapt my fitness routine moving from my 20s to 30s?

ASK AN XPERT

While in your 20s, it's easy to push limits and bounce back quickly, your 30s call for a more mindful, balanced approach. The onset of your 30s leads to muscle mass loss which leads to loss of strength and endurance, changes in posture, and reduced metabolism.

- Prioritise strength training – using your body weight and lifting external resistance like weights and barbells 2-3 times a week can preserve muscle, boost metabolism, and support joint health.
- Adequate stretching and rest will help you bounce back. Quality sleep should become just as important as your workouts.
- Respect your joints and swap out some high-impact workouts for swimming, cycling, aerobics or strength circuits that are easier on the knees and back.
- Instead of long, punishing workouts, go for shorter, more efficient sessions. Think full-body strength training, functional movement, and mobility drills.
- Your metabolism may slow slightly, so being mindful of portion sizes and making nutrient-dense choices can help support your fitness goals.

Remember your 30s are not about slowing down, they're about training smarter.

UTTHAN PRISTHASANA ELBOWS BLOCK (LIZARD POSE ELBOWS BLOCK)

This is a supported intermediate-level variation of the foundational pose, Utthan Pristhasana (Lizard Pose). The use of a yoga prop block in this forward bend-hip opening practice acts as great support for beginners, those who are new to this practice or those who may not have the required strength and flexibility to balance the body. It helps students to understand the use of muscles and joints with better alignment.

STEPS

- Keep a block, bolster, folded blankets, or pillows handy. Start in Adho Mukha Svanasana, grounding the feet, lift the hips upwards. Expand the chest, allowing your shoulders to rotate away from the ears.
- Gently drop your head between your shoulders. If your heels don't initially touch the floor, it's okay. Stay here for a breath or two and take a second to stretch it out.
- Take a big breath in. Exhale, step your right foot in front and place it outside of your right palm. Inhale, let your torso and hips sink in Lizard Pose while expanding the chest. Drop your back knee (left) down with an active arch and toes curled under.
- Grab the block and place the wider, shorter edge on the floor, in place of the palms, in line with the right toes. With an exhalation, bend your hands and rest your elbows on a block.
- Keep your hands in L-shape, with forearms parallel to the floor and palms facing each other. Stay here in Utthan Pristhasana Elbows Block for about six breaths or as per capacity.
- To release, inhale and raise the head up, palms on the floor, remove the block aside. Relax in Adho Mukha Svanasana. Counter the stretch on the other side.
- Release and come back in Adho Mukha Svanasana. Finally, relax in Balasana.

LIMITATIONS

- Injury or recent surgery in the shoulders, elbows, arms, neck, back, spine, hip, knee, ankles, toe, or abdomen, those with spine hernia, weakness in the shoulders or forearms, and menstruating and pregnant women should avoid practice.
- Students with HBP, epilepsy, migraine, vertigo, nausea, or heart ailments, practise with an instructor.

BENEFITS

- Opens your chest, shoulders, hip flexors, groin, and hamstrings.

JOURNEY TO HAPPY OLD AGE

Here's how to slide into old age the happy way

DR C J JOHN

IN 2021, Karnataka elderly population (60+) accounted for 11.5 per cent of the total population. And the migration of youth is indeed creating more homes in the state that have only elderly parents.

Besides giving nominal welfare pensions to a significant number of aged, we do not have any other active social protective systems. The presumption is that the family, comprising children and near relatives, will care for the elderly.

That social support system, however, has weakened due to various factors. Changes in family dynamics, the lack of time for young ones to care for elderly people, a shift toward an individualistic culture, and migration of the younger generation are some of the contributors. In a changing social scenario, elders will have to make fresh road maps for a happier life.

Thus, there is a need to develop new life skills for old age in tune with social changes, instead of wasting time by placing blame.

Second innings

Accepting old age with grace is the right strategy. This will equip one with the strength to face the challenges it brings. Physical illnesses of old age are, of course, a matter of concern. Mobility issues may be troublesome. Changes in brain and emotional space cause additional problems. Some will have memory issues. And the percentage of those affected by depression is high in elderly people.

Explore methods to survive in every crisis. Seek professional help and social support. Practise safety principles to avoid falls and accidental injuries. Negotiate for senior-citizen-friendly environments, which is a right.

Better self-care

Longevity should be primarily about adding quality to additional life years. Stay committed to care for physical and mental health.

Have regular health screenings. The cost for such measures will be negligible when compared with the damage due to negligence.

Healthy diet, exercises or walking, and adequate sleep. are vital. Practices like meditation help ease the mind.

Seek autonomy

There is a dependency trap in our culture that tells us that elders are destined to depend. We hear many complaints that children, for whom they lived their life, are not caring enough or are unavailable. Some want them to accompany them to the hospital or assist in every matter.

If one has the energy to do this without depending on anybody, venture out by oneself. Elders of the new world need to develop a mindset that moves away from dependency to autonomy, as long as mobility permits.

Younger ones may have genuine practical issues related to pressures of livelihood and a lack of time. Understanding realities free of resentment will foster healthy intergenerational relationships. However, there must be empowerment to fight neglect, exploitation or abuse.

Refuse to be lonely

Loneliness is a reality. It may be self-created or related to a depressive mood. It may also be socially scripted due to empty nest syndrome when children fly away for livelihood. Death of a spouse may also be a factor.

When one shrinks into a cocoon, the impact of loneliness becomes severe. Idleness and shrinkage of social connections breed isolation. Do note that those elderly with satisfying daily routines and social connections are the happiest.

Fill in cheer to late life by indulging in hobbies, reading books, engaging in social service activities or even making journeys. Those who can continue with their career or any work can do that.

Relinquish authority

Some elders resist relinquishing authority, which creates friction with children. Many refuse to part with control over their wealth, even when their children need it. There is overindulgence in decision-making without giving space for younger ones.

It's better to relinquish authority with grace and purpose. The space for listening and an openness for participatory decisions should be created.

Acquire basic digital skill

In a new world geared by smartphones, it's essential to acquire the basic skills to use them to make life much easier and more self-reliant. Skills to pay bills, purchase provisions, book online taxis or even organise an online consultation with a doctor will make life less restrictive. Utilise new avenues of communication to stay connected with kith and kin.

LEARNING DISABILITY AWARENESS WEEK (JUNE 16 - 22)

Let's rethink, redefine

From inculcating an inclusive learning environment to avoiding stigma, here's how to embrace children with learning disability

SANIKA KISHOR

AS Learning Disability Awareness Week is marked, it prompts much-needed reflection on how society views learning, intelligence, and academic success.

In a time when diversity and innovation are celebrated, many students are still hampered by educational systems that do not acknowledge different minds function differently. Learning disabilities like dyslexiaia and ADHD affect a significant percentage of children, yet awareness remain limited.

These are not intellectual or motivational issues; but neurodevelopmental disorders which impact how information is received, processed, stored, and responded to by the brain. If given the right conditions and support, people with learning disabilities can flourish.

The disability itself is not the main obstacle, but the settings in which people are expected to operate. Text-heavy curricula and speed-based assessments are still given top priority in traditional classrooms. This largely excludes students who learn best with storytelling, activities, visual aids, or slower-paced instruction. Because of this, many students internalise failure, lose confidence, and withdraw, despite having a great potential. The long-term effects can impact mental health, self-esteem, and future opportunities.

When learning differences are identified early on, children can be guided through to overcome challenges.

However, this necessitates that schools have qualified teachers, easily available materials, and an inclusive culture that avoids labelling. Schools must also engage families as partners in the process, ensuring parents understand their child's needs and rights. Many are reluctant to seek assessments, fearing their child will be labelled as 'less capable'.

Even if a student struggles with neat writing, they may still be a gifted storyteller. A child with emotional intelligence or visual-spatial skills may struggle with numbers. These diverse talents must be acknowledged and encouraged by schools.

Learning Disability Awareness Week is a call to action rather than merely a campaign. It is crucial that educational policies move from theory to practice. Schools should acknowledge neurodiversity and establish learning environments where every student feels seen, valued, and capable.

Beyond the classroom, society as a whole needs to start appreciating diverse thinkers. Despite their challenges, many with learning differences succeed in entrepreneurship, arts, science and technology. Popular figures such as Albert Einstein, Richard Branson, and Whoopi Goldberg have spoken about their struggles and strengths tied to learning differences, reminding us that disability does not limit potential.

‘WORKING IN SATYA PRAKASH'S X & Y TAUGHT ME TO LET GO AND JUST BE’

A still from the film

Ayaana, who was keen to collaborate with the director, shares why she believes the script is the true hero, talks about her exciting upcoming projects, and reflects on how fame may come, but what truly matters is the work

A SHARADHAA

SOME dreams manifest quietly, and for actor Ayaana, her wish to work with acclaimed filmmaker Satya Prakash came true sooner than expected. It was at the premiere of his previous film, Man of the Match, that Ayaana silently hoped to be part of his world. That wish of his took shape in his latest directorial venture, X & Y.

In X & Y, Ayaana shares screen space with Satya Prakash himself — who directs and plays the lead — alongside Brinda Acharya and Atharva Prakash. “My performance in Doordarshana caught Satya sir’s attention. That’s how I joined the project,” says Ayaana.

With deep roots in theatre as a lead actor in MS Sathyu’s plays, and having worked in Girish Kasaravalli’s festival film Illiralare Allige Hogalare, Ayaana is clear about her goals. “I want films where the script is the real hero. That excites me.” On X & Y, the scientific title caught her interest initially she quips, “I thought it was about biology and chromosomes. But I mainly wanted to learn Satya sir’s working style.”

As someone who loves rehearsals and preparations, Ayaana found Satya Prakash’s spontaneous method challenging. “He wants natural, in-the-moment acting. It pushed me to improvise and be free on set. Working in X & Y taught me to let go and just be.” Ayaana plays Asha, a guide to an unborn soul, and reveals she is not the lead’s love interest. “My character takes him through a metaphysical journey filled with goodness.”

Ayaana is choosing her projects carefully. Soon, she will debut in Telugu cinema as the female lead in Vijay N’s Alpha. She has also worked in a web series for a top OTT platform. “From a village girl in Doordarshana to a modern role in X & Y, and now varied shades in Telugu — and a different character in Alpha — each one is unique,” she describes.

With hope and patience, Ayaana concludes, “I want to pick the right stories. Fame will come, but the truth of the work matters most.”

> I thought X & Y, was about biology and chromosomes. But I mainly wanted to learn Satya sir’s working style – Ayaana, actor

I’M CHOOSING ROLES THAT SPEAK TO ME: ATHARVA PRAKASH

Atharva Prakash

From Tulu films to metaphysical cinema, the young actor embraces roles that challenge and inspire

A stills from the film

COMING from an architecture background and early roles in Tulu cinema, actor Atharva Prakash is no stranger to reinvention. His latest film, X & Y, directed by Satya Prakash, has him playing an unusual role — that of a spirit, or an unborn soul waiting for a chance to be born on Earth.

“There was no reference for my character,” Atharva says, and adds, “At one point, PK was the only thing that came to mind. It was hard to visualise something that exists in-between. But Satya sir’s story and direction guided me. He became my mirror and character guide.” Atharva, who had earlier collaborated with Satya in Man of the Match, credits that rapport for easing him into this experimental world. He says, “I never once checked the monitor. I trust him completely — he knows what I’m capable of.”

X & Y also stars Brinda Acharya, Ayaana, and Sundar Veena, among others. But Satya, known for pushing boundaries, keeps the ensemble at the heart of the story. “Everyone is a performer in this film. No one’s just filling a frame,” Atharva notes.

Though not the stereotypical mass hero yet, Atharva is in no rush. “Experience teaches you everything. I’m choosing roles that speak to me. Of course, I’d love to play a mass hero — and I call that ‘mass’ the ability to connect with all kinds of audiences. I’ve wanted that since seventh grade,” a composed Atharva says.

Speaking about Satya’s storytelling style, he adds, “His stories may take time to be understood, but they always feel fresh and real. X & Y is no different — it’s metaphysical, yes, but it’s also light-hearted and deeply human. Families will connect with it.” Up next? A complete tonal shift. “Non-Veg — a full-blown comedy, and I am waiting for its release,” he signs off.

Glen Powell in Ron Howard’s firefighter drama

CE FEATURES

GLEN Powell will headline an upcoming firefighter drama directed by Ron Howard for Amazon MGM Studios. The untitled film is based on an original pitch from screenwriter Christina Hodson and was acquired preemptively by the studio.

The story centres on two childhood friends, now accomplished firefighters, who confront both their past and a wave of deadly wildfires sweeping across Texas. As they battle the flames, tensions rise, and their long-standing relationship is tested.

Howard will produce the film alongside Brian Grazer and Jeb Brody for Imagine Entertainment. Powell will also serve as a producer through his Barnstorm banner, alongside Dan Cohen.

Powell recently starred in the sequel to Twisters and Richard Linklater’s acclaimed Netflix film Hit Man, which he also co-wrote and produced. He’s currently attached to multiple high-profile projects, including Edgar Wright’s The Running Man remake, A24’s Huntington, and J J Abrams’ next feature at Warner Bros. He also leads the upcoming Hulu series Chad Powers.

Meanwhile, Hodson’s writing credits include Bumblebee, Birds of Prey, and The Flash, establishing her as one of the most in-demand screenwriters in the action and adventure space.

Usiru tagline serves as a cryptic clue, says director Prabhakar

Tilak and Priya Hegde

CE FEATURES

USIRU (Breath) marks the directorial debut of Prabhakar, a filmmaker whose 12-year journey in Tamil cinema now culminates in a story he has both written and directed. Having wrapped up filming across Bengaluru, Madikeri, Chikkamagaluru, and Moodigere, the thriller is now in its final post-production stages.

Produced by Lakshmi Harish under the RSP Productions banner, Usiru starring Tilak Shekar and Priya Hegde, film follows a police officer’s desperate mission to save his wife from a looming threat — a premise layered with suspense and emotional grit.

“What you hear might be false, what you see might deceive—but when you pause and think, the truth finds its breath,” Lakshmi Harish describes the film’s core message. Director Prabhakar adds, “Every character matters. Usiru is about more than survival, it is about what gives us life. And the title will make perfect sense once you watch it. Usiru’s tagline, 07.08.09, serves as a cryptic clue, inviting audiences to unravel its hidden meaning.”

The teaser, unveiled by Srinagara Kitty and Ravi R Garani, hints at a high-stakes thriller infused with emotional resonance. Tilak, who plays an investigative officer, says, “This concept is unlike anything I have done. The mystery runs deep.” Actor Priya Hegde adds that her role carries several shades and introduces a crucial turning point in the narrative. Celebrating 25 years in cinema, composer RS Ganesh Narayanan has worked on five tracks with lyrics from Abhi. Byaravarama pens dialogues of the film. The film’s cast also includes Santosh, Apoorva, and Arun in pivotal roles.

PEN DRIVE TO HIT SCREENS ON THIS DATE

CE FEATURES

Stills from the film

THE upcoming Kannada film Pen Drive has already sparked a buzz for its provocative title. The film’s director, Sebastian David, said the name carries weight. Now, this much-talked-about film is gearing up for a statewide release this July 4.

The film, led by actor Malashree, also features Bigg Boss fame Tanisha Kuppanda and Kishan in prominent roles. RH Enterprises’ N Hanumantharaju and Lion S Venkatesh back the project.

The recent audio launch added to the excitement, with celebrated lyricist and composer Dr V Nagendra Prasad unveiling the soundtrack in the presence of Karnataka Film Chamber President Narasimhulu, who extended hearty wishes to the team. The cinematographer for Pen Drive is PVR Swamy.

Director David hinted at the film’s deeper layers, “Pen Drive is not just a techy title—it holds a mirror to society, just like my earlier works.” The film has overcome significant hurdles to secure a release in 150+ theatres across Karnataka.

Tanisha, who plays a tough-as-nails cop, shared her thrill about grooving with Kishan in a lively number. “This is my first project post Bigg Boss, and I’m thrilled with how it’s turned out,” Kishan adds.
